MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

1. Organization

MFA Financial, Inc. (the “Company”) was incorporated in Maryland on July 24, 1997 and began operations on April 10, 1998. The Company has elected to be treated as a real estate investment trust (“REIT”) for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In order to maintain its qualification as a REIT, the Company must comply with a number of requirements under federal tax law, including that it must distribute at least 90% of its annual REIT taxable income to its stockholders. The Company has elected to treat certain of its subsidiaries as taxable REIT subsidiaries (“TRS”). In general, a TRS may hold assets and engage in activities that the Company cannot hold or engage in directly and generally may engage in any real estate or non-real estate related business (see Note 8).

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of Presentation and Consolidation

The interim unaudited consolidated financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”). Certain information and note disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”) have been condensed or omitted in accordance with these SEC rules and regulations. Management believes that the disclosures included in these interim unaudited consolidated financial statements are adequate to make the information presented not misleading. The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025. In the opinion of management, all normal and recurring adjustments necessary to present fairly the financial condition of the Company at March 31, 2026 and results of operations for all periods presented have been made. The results of operations for the three months ended March 31, 2026 should not be construed as indicative of the results to be expected for the full year.

The accompanying consolidated financial statements of the Company have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with GAAP. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Although the Company’s estimates contemplate current conditions and how it expects them to change in the future, it is reasonably possible that actual conditions could differ from those estimates, which could materially impact the Company’s results of operations and its financial condition. Management has made significant estimates in several areas: impairment, valuation allowances and loss allowances on residential whole loans (see Note 3), certain securities designated as available-for-sale (“AFS”) (see Note 4), certain Other assets (see Note 5), valuation of Securities, at fair value (see Notes 4 and 13), income recognition and valuation of residential whole loans (see Notes 3 and 13), valuation of financing agreements (Notes 6 and 13), and valuation of derivative instruments (see Notes 5(e) and 13). In addition, estimates are used in the determination of taxable income used in the assessment of REIT compliance and contingent liabilities for related taxes, penalties and interest (see Note 8), and litigation liability (Note 9(e)). Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The consolidated financial statements of the Company include the accounts of all subsidiaries. All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated. In addition, the Company consolidates entities established to facilitate transactions related to the acquisition and securitization of residential whole loans. Certain prior period amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current period presentation.

(b) Residential Whole Loans (including Residential Whole Loans transferred to consolidated VIEs)

Residential whole loans included in the Company’s consolidated balance sheets are primarily comprised of pools of fixed- and adjustable-rate residential mortgage loans acquired through consolidated trusts in secondary market transactions or originated by our indirect wholly owned subsidiary, Lima One Capital, LLC (together with its parent company, Lima One Holdings, LLC, “Lima One”). The accounting model utilized by the Company is determined at the time each loan package is initially acquired or each loan is originated. Prior to the second quarter of 2021, the Company typically elected the fair value option on loans that were 60 or more days delinquent at purchase. All other loans purchased prior to the second quarter of 2021 were typically held at carrying value. Starting in the second quarter of 2021, the Company began to elect the fair value option for all loans originated or acquired. The accounting model initially applied to loan originations and acquisitions is not permitted to be subsequently changed. Consequently, the Company is not permitted to retroactively apply fair value accounting to loans held at carrying value acquired in periods prior to the second quarter of 2021.

MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

The Company's residential whole loans pledged as collateral against financing agreements are included in the consolidated balance sheets with amounts pledged disclosed in Note 6. Purchases and sales of residential whole loans are recorded on the settlement date.

The Company's residential whole loans are primarily comprised of: (i) loans to finance (or refinance) one-to-four family residential properties that are not considered to meet the definition of a "Qualified Mortgage" in accordance with guidelines adopted by the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau ("Non-QM loans"), (ii) business purpose loans primarily originated by Lima One, to finance (or refinance) non-owner occupied one-to-four family residential properties that are rented to one or more tenants ("Single-family rental loans"), (iii) short-term business purpose loans primarily originated by Lima One, collateralized by residential properties made to non-occupant borrowers that generally intend to rehabilitate or construct residential housing and then refinance or sell the properties ("Single-family transitional loans"), (iv) short-term business purpose loans primarily originated by Lima One, collateralized by multifamily properties, typically with a loan balance below $10 million, made to non-occupant borrowers that generally intend to moderately rehabilitate or stabilize and then refinance or sell the properties ("Multifamily transitional loans," collectively with Single-family transitional loans, "Transitional loans," also sometimes referred to as "Rehabilitation loans" or "Fix and Flip loans" and, collectively with Single-family rental loans, "Business purpose loans"), (v) loans primarily secured by residential real estate that were generally either non-performing or re-performing at acquisition ("Legacy RPL/NPL loans") and (vi) loans on investor properties that conform to the standards for purchase by a federally chartered corporation, such as the Federal National Mortgage Association ("Fannie Mae") or the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation ("Freddie Mac") ("Agency eligible investor loans," which are included in "Other loans"). Residential whole loans are initially recorded at their purchase price (or amount funded for originated loans). Interest income is accrued based on each loan's current interest bearing balance and current interest rate. Interest income on loans acquired at a premium/discount to par is recorded each period based on the contractual coupon net of any amortization of premium or accretion of discount, adjusted for actual prepayment activity. For loans acquired with related servicing rights retained by the seller, interest income is reported net of related servicing costs.

For loans acquired prior to the second quarter of 2021 for which the fair value option was not elected, an allowance for credit losses is recorded at acquisition, and maintained on an ongoing basis, for all credit losses expected over the life of the respective loan. Any required credit loss allowance would reduce the net carrying value of the loan with a corresponding charge to earnings, and may increase or decrease over time. Judgments are required in determining any allowance for credit loss, including assumptions regarding the loan cash flows expected to be collected, the value of the underlying collateral and the ability of the Company to collect on any other forms of security, such as a personal guaranty provided either by the borrower or an affiliate of the borrower.

Income recognition is suspended, and interest accruals are reversed against income, for loans at the earlier of the date on which payments become 90 days past due or when, in the opinion of management, a full recovery of income and principal becomes doubtful (i.e., such loans are placed on nonaccrual status). For nonaccrual loans, interest income is recorded when interest payments are received. Interest accruals are resumed when the loan becomes contractually current. A loan is written off when it is no longer realizable and/or it is legally discharged.

Charge-offs to the allowance for loan losses occur when losses are confirmed through the receipt of cash or other consideration from the completion of a sale; when a modification or restructuring takes place in which we grant a concession to a borrower or agree to a discount in full or partial satisfaction of the loan; when we take ownership and control of the underlying collateral in full satisfaction of the loan; when loans are reclassified as other investments; or when significant collection efforts have ceased and it is highly likely that a loss has been realized.

The aggregate allowance for credit losses is equal to the sum of the losses expected over the life of each respective loan. Expected losses are generally calculated based on the estimated probability of default and loss severity of loans in the portfolio, which involves projecting each loan's expected cash flows based on their contractual terms, expected prepayments, and estimated default and loss severity rates. The expected losses in these projected cash flows are not discounted. The default and severity rates were estimated based on the following steps: (i) obtained the Company's historical experience through an entire economic cycle for each loan type or, to the extent the Company did not have sufficient historical loss experience for a given loan type, publicly available data derived from the historical loss experience of certain banks, which data the Company believes is generally representative of its portfolio, (ii) obtained historical economic data (U.S. unemployment rates and home price appreciation) over the same period, and (iii) estimated default and severity rates during three distinct future periods based on historical default and severity rates during periods when economic conditions similar to those forecasted were experienced. The default and severity rates were applied to the estimated amount of loans outstanding during each future period, based on contractual terms and expected prepayments. Expected prepayments are estimated based on historical experience and current and expected future economic conditions, including market interest rates. The three periods were as follows: (i) a one-year forecast of economic conditions based on U.S. unemployment rates and home price appreciation, followed by (ii) a two-year "reversion" period during which economic conditions (U.S. unemployment rates and home price appreciation) are projected to revert to historical averages on a straight line basis, followed by (iii) the remaining life of each loan, during which period economic conditions (U.S. unemployment rates and home price appreciation) are projected to equal historical averages. In addition, a liability is established (and recorded in Other Liabilities) each period using a similar methodology for committed but undrawn loan amounts. The Company forecasts future economic conditions based on forecasts provided by an external preparer of economic forecasts, as well as its own knowledge of the market and its portfolio. The Company may consider multiple scenarios and select the one that it believes results in the most reasonable estimate of expected losses. The Company may apply qualitative adjustments to these results as further described in Note 3. For certain loans where foreclosure has been deemed to be probable, loss estimates are based on whether the value of the underlying collateral is sufficient to recover the carrying value of the loan. This methodology has not changed significantly from the calculation of the allowance for credit losses in prior periods, although certain modeling factors have been refined over time and the data utilized has, in some cases, been updated to better align with actual and expected loss experiences.

MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

Certain Legacy RPL/NPL loans acquired by the Company for which the Company did not elect the fair value option are accounted for as credit deteriorated as they have experienced a deterioration in credit quality since origination and prior to our purchase and were acquired at discounted prices that reflect, in part, the impaired credit history of the borrower. Substantially all of these loans have previously experienced payment delinquencies and the amount owed may exceed the value of the property pledged as collateral. Consequently, these loans generally have a higher likelihood of default than newly originated mortgage loans with loan-to-value ratios ("LTVs") of 80% or less to creditworthy borrowers. The Company believes that amounts paid to acquire these loans represent fair market value at the date of acquisition. Loans considered credit deteriorated are initially recorded at their purchase price on a net basis, after establishing an initial allowance for credit losses (their initial cost basis is equal to their purchase price plus the initial allowance for credit losses). Subsequent to acquisition, the gross recorded amount for these loans reflects the initial cost basis, plus accretion/amortization of interest income, less principal and interest cash flows received. These credit deteriorated loans are presented on the Company's consolidated balance sheets at carrying value, which reflects the recorded cost basis reduced by any allowance for credit losses. Interest income on such loans purchased is recorded each period based on the contractual coupon net of accretion/amortization of the difference between their cost basis and unpaid principal balance ("UPB"), subject to the Company's nonaccrual policy.

Loans Held-for-Sale

For loans for which the fair value option was not elected, once a decision has been made to sell loans previously classified as held for investment, such loans are considered held-for-sale and are carried at the lower of cost or fair value.

Residential Whole Loans at Fair Value

Certain of the Company's residential whole loans are presented at fair value on its consolidated balance sheets as a result of a fair value election made at the time of acquisition or origination. The Company generally considers accounting for these loans at fair value to be more reflective of the expected pattern of returns from these loans under current economic conditions. The Company determines the fair value of its residential whole loans held at fair value after considering portfolio valuations obtained from third-parties that specialize in providing valuations of residential mortgage loans and trading activity observed in the marketplace. Subsequent changes in fair value are reported in current period earnings and presented in Net gain/(loss) on residential whole loans measured at fair value through earnings on the Company's consolidated statements of operations.

Interest income is recorded on these loans based on their yield and is presented as part of interest income in the Company's consolidated statements of operations. Cash outflows associated with loan-related advances made by the Company on behalf of the borrower are included in the basis of the loan and are reflected in unrealized gains or losses reported each period. Income and costs associated with originating loans on which the fair value option was elected are recorded in other income and expense, respectively, in the period in which they are earned or incurred.

(c) Securities, at Fair Value

Residential Mortgage Securities

The Company has invested in residential mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") that are issued or guaranteed as to principal and/or interest by a federally chartered corporation, such as Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac, or an agency of the U.S. Government, such as the Government National Mortgage Association ("Ginnie Mae") (collectively, "Agency MBS"), and residential MBS that are not guaranteed by any agency of the U.S. Government or any federally chartered corporation ("Non-Agency MBS"). In addition, the Company has investments in credit risk transfer ("CRT") securities that are issued by or sponsored by Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac.

MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

The coupon payments on CRT securities are paid by the issuer and the principal payments received are dependent on the performance of loans in either a reference pool or an actual pool of loans. As the loans in the underlying pool are paid, the principal balance of the CRT securities is paid. As an investor in a CRT security, the Company may incur a principal loss if the performance of the actual or reference pool loans results in either an actual or calculated loss that exceeds the credit enhancement of the security owned by the Company.

Term Notes Backed by Mortgage Servicing Rights ("MSR") Collateral

The Company had invested in term notes that are issued by special purpose vehicles ("SPV") that acquired rights to receive cash flows representing the servicing fees and/or excess servicing spread associated with certain MSRs. The Company considered payment of principal and interest on these term notes to be largely dependent on the cash flows generated by the underlying MSRs as this impacts the cash flows available to the SPV that issued the term notes. Credit risk borne by the holders of the term notes was also mitigated by structural credit support in the form of over-collateralization. Credit support was also provided by a corporate guarantee from the ultimate parent or sponsor of the SPV that was intended to provide for payment of interest and principal to the holders of the term notes if cash flows generated by the underlying MSRs were insufficient. During the second quarter of 2025, the term notes backed by MSR collateral were repaid in full.

Designation

Securities that the Company generally intends to hold until maturity, but that it may sell from time to time as part of the overall management of its business, are designated as AFS. Such securities, which include term notes backed by MSR collateral and certain CRT securities, are carried at their fair value with unrealized gains and losses excluded from earnings (except when an allowance for loan losses is recognized, as discussed below) and reported in accumulated other comprehensive income/(loss) ("AOCI"), a component of Stockholders' Equity.

Upon the sale of an AFS security, any unrealized gain or loss is reclassified out of AOCI to earnings as a realized gain or loss using the specific identification method.

The Company has elected the fair value option for its Agency and Non-Agency MBS and certain of its CRT securities. These securities are carried at their fair value with changes in fair value included in earnings for the period and reported in Other Income/(Loss), net on the Company's consolidated statements of operations.

Revenue Recognition, Premium Amortization and Discount Accretion

Interest income on securities is accrued based on their outstanding principal balance and their contractual terms. Premiums and discounts associated with MBS assessed as high credit quality at the time of purchase are amortized into interest income over the life of such securities using the effective yield method. Adjustments to premium amortization are made for actual prepayment activity. Premiums and discounts associated with MBS not assessed as high credit quality at the time of purchase are amortized into interest income over the life of such securities using the effective yield method based upon current expected future cash flows. Any adjustment to yield is made on a prospective basis.

Determination of Fair Value for Securities

In determining the fair value of the Company's residential mortgage securities, management considers a number of observable market data points, including prices obtained from pricing services, brokers and repurchase agreement counterparties, dialogue with market participants, as well as management's observations of market activity (see Note 13). For term notes backed by MSR collateral, other factors taken into consideration include estimated changes in fair value of the related underlying MSR collateral, as applicable, and the financial performance of the ultimate parent or sponsoring entity of the issuer, which has provided a guarantee that is intended to provide for payment of interest and principal to the holders of the term notes if cash flows generated by the related underlying MSR collateral are insufficient.

Allowance for Credit Losses

When the fair value of an AFS security is less than its amortized cost basis at the balance sheet date, the security is considered impaired. The Company assesses its impaired securities, as well as securities for which a credit loss allowance had been previously recorded, on at least a quarterly basis and determines whether any changes to the allowance for credit losses are required. If the Company intends to sell an impaired security, or it is more likely than not that it will be required to sell the impaired security before its anticipated recovery, then the Company must recognize a writedown through charges to earnings equal to the entire difference between the investment's amortized cost basis and its fair value at the balance sheet date. If the Company does not expect to sell an impaired security, only the portion of the impairment related to credit losses is recognized through a loss allowance charged to earnings with the remainder recognized through AOCI on the Company's consolidated balance sheets. Impairments recognized through other comprehensive income/(loss) ("OCI") do not impact earnings. Credit loss allowances are subject to reversal through earnings resulting from improvements in expected cash flows. The determination as to whether to record (or reverse) a credit loss allowance is subjective, as such determinations are based on factual information available at the time of assessment as well as the Company's estimates of future performance and cash flow projections. As a result, the timing and amount of losses constitute material estimates that are susceptible to significant change (see Note 4).

Balance Sheet Presentation

The Company's securities pledged as collateral against financing agreements and derivatives are included on the consolidated balance sheets with the fair value of the securities pledged disclosed in Notes 6 and 5, respectively. Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on the trade date.

(d) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on deposit with financial institutions and investments in money market funds, all of which have original maturities of three months or less. Cash and cash equivalents may also include cash pledged as collateral to the Company by its financing counterparties as a result of reverse margin calls (i.e., margin calls made by the Company). The Company did not hold any cash pledged by its counterparties at March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025. At March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had cash and cash equivalents of $221.6 million and $213.2 million, respectively. At March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had $201.7 million and $181.3 million, respectively, of investments in overnight money market funds, which are not bank deposits and are not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") or any other government agency. In addition, deposits in FDIC insured accounts generally exceed insured limits (see Notes 6 and 13).

(e) Restricted Cash

Restricted cash primarily represents the Company's cash collections held in connection with certain of the Company's financing agreements, derivative financial instruments, consolidated securitization trusts and/or loan servicing activities that are not available to the Company for general corporate purposes. Restricted cash may be applied against amounts due to financing agreements, derivative financial instrument counterparties and/or trust obligations or may be returned to the Company when the related collateral requirements are exceeded or at the maturity of financing agreements, Swaps and/or securitizations. The Company had aggregate restricted cash of $189.2 million and $173.5 million at March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively (see Notes 5(e), 6 and 13).

(f) Goodwill & Intangible Assets

At March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had goodwill of $61.1 million, which represents the excess of the fair value of consideration paid over the fair value of net assets acquired in connection with the acquisition of Lima One, and other intangible assets of $2.3 million and $2.6 million, respectively (net of amortization), primarily comprised of customer relationships (fully amortized as of June 30, 2025), non-competition agreements (fully amortized as of June 30, 2022), trademarks and trade names, and internally developed software recognized as part of the acquisition of Lima One (see Note 5(b)). The intangible assets are amortized over their expected useful lives, which ranged from one to ten years at acquisition. Goodwill, which is not subject to amortization, and intangible assets are tested for impairment at least annually, or more frequently under certain circumstances that could reduce the fair value of the Lima One reporting unit (a component of the Lima One segment) below its carrying amount. Through March 31, 2026, the Company had not recognized any impairment against its goodwill or intangible assets. Goodwill and intangible assets are included in Other assets on the Company's consolidated balance sheets.

MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

(g) Real Estate Owned (“REO”)

REO represents real estate acquired by the Company, including through foreclosure, deed in lieu of foreclosure, or purchased in connection with the acquisition of residential whole loans. Generally, REO acquired through foreclosure or deed in lieu of foreclosure is initially recorded at fair value less estimated selling costs. REO acquired in connection with the acquisition of residential whole loans is initially recorded at its purchase price. Subsequent to acquisition, REO is reported, at each reporting date, at the lower of the current carrying amount or fair value less estimated selling costs and for presentation purposes is included in Other assets on the Company’s consolidated balance sheets. Changes in fair value that result in an adjustment to the reported amount of an REO property that has a fair value at or below its carrying amount are reported in Other Income/(Loss), net on the Company’s consolidated statements of operations (see Note 5).

Certain multifamily REO properties and Commercial properties held within unconsolidated VIEs acquired by the Company are not immediately available for sale because we generally intend to stabilize the operations at such properties. Therefore, each property is measured at fair value at acquisition and then depreciated over the expected useful life. The amounts reported in the balance sheet at any given period represent the amortized cost basis of the property until there is a planned sale, at which point the carrying value would be updated to fair value less estimated selling costs.

(h) Leases and Depreciation

Leases

The Company records its operating lease liabilities and operating lease right-of-use assets on its consolidated balance sheets. The operating lease liabilities are equal to the present value of the remaining fixed lease payments (excluding real estate tax and operating expense escalations) discounted at the Company’s estimated incremental borrowing rate at the date of lease commencement, and the operating lease right-of-use assets are equal to the operating lease liabilities adjusted for lease incentives and initial direct costs. As lease payments are made, the operating lease liabilities are reduced to the present value of the remaining lease payments and the operating lease right-of-use assets are reduced by the difference between the lease expense (straight-lined over the lease term) and the theoretical interest expense amount (calculated using the incremental borrowing rate at the date of lease commencement). See Notes 5 and 9 for further discussion on leases.

Leasehold Improvements, Real Estate and Other Depreciable Assets

Depreciation is computed on the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the related assets or, in the case of leasehold improvements, over the shorter of the useful life or the lease term. Furniture, fixtures, computers and related hardware have estimated useful lives ranging from five to fifteen years at the time of purchase. Multifamily REO properties have estimated useful lives of 30 years at the time of acquisition and Commercial properties held within unconsolidated VIEs have estimated useful lives of 39 years.

(i) Loan Securitization and Other Debt Issuance Costs

Loan securitization related costs are costs associated with the issuance of beneficial interests by consolidated VIEs and incurred by the Company in connection with various financing transactions completed by the Company. These costs may include underwriting, rating agency, legal, accounting, diligence, bank and other fees. Such costs, which reflect deferred charges (unless the debt is recorded at fair value, as discussed below), are included on the Company’s consolidated balance sheets as a direct deduction from the corresponding debt liability. These deferred charges are amortized as an adjustment to interest expense using the effective interest method. For certain financing agreements, such costs are amortized over the shorter of the period to the expected or stated legal maturity of the debt instruments. The Company periodically reviews the recoverability of these deferred costs and, in the event an impairment charge is required, such amount will be included in Operating and Other Expense on the Company’s consolidated statements of operations. To the extent that the Company has elected the fair value option for the related debt liability, these costs are expensed at the closing of the transaction.

(j) Mortgage servicing rights (“MSRs”)

MSRs represent the contractual right to service residential mortgage loans. The Company generally recognizes MSRs created through the sale of loans it originates. Under the accounting guidance for transfers and servicing, the Company initially measures a mortgage servicing asset that qualifies for separate recognition at fair value on the date of transfer. The Company has elected to record its investments at fair value in order to provide users of the financial statements with better information regarding the effects of prepayment risk and other market factors on MSRs. Under this election, the Company records a valuation adjustment on its MSRs on a quarterly basis to recognize the changes in fair value in net income. MSRs are aggregated into pools as applicable; each pool of MSRs is accounted for in the aggregate. Income from MSRs, other than valuation adjustments, is recorded in Lima One mortgage banking income; valuation adjustments are recorded in Impairment and other net gain/(loss) on securities and other portfolio investments. Fair value is generally determined by discounting the expected future cash flows using discount rates that incorporate the market risks and liquidity premium specific to the MSRs.

MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

(k) Financing Agreements

The Company finances the majority of its residential mortgage assets with financing agreements that include securitized debt, repurchase agreements and other forms of collateralized financing. Under repurchase agreements, the Company sells assets to a lender and agrees to repurchase the same assets in the future for a price that is higher than the original sale price. The difference between the sale price that the Company receives and the repurchase price that the Company pays represents interest paid to the lender. Although legally structured as sale and repurchase transactions, the Company accounts for repurchase agreements as secured borrowings. Under its repurchase agreements and other forms of collateralized financing, the Company pledges its assets as collateral to secure the borrowing, in an amount which is equal to a specified percentage of the fair value of the pledged collateral, while the Company retains beneficial ownership of the pledged collateral. At the maturity of a repurchase financing, unless the repurchase financing is renewed with the same counterparty, the Company is required to repay the loan including any accrued interest and concurrently receives back its pledged collateral from the lender. With the consent of the lender, the Company may renew a repurchase financing at the then prevailing financing terms. Margin calls, whereby a lender requires that the Company pledge additional assets or cash as collateral to secure borrowings under its repurchase financing with such lender, are routinely experienced by the Company when the value of the assets pledged as collateral declines as a result of principal amortization and prepayments or due to changes in market interest rates, spreads or other market conditions. The Company also may make margin calls on counterparties when collateral values increase.

Should a counterparty decide not to renew a financing arrangement at maturity, the Company must either refinance elsewhere or be in a position to satisfy the obligation. If, during the term of a financing, a lender should default on its obligation, the Company might experience difficulty recovering its pledged assets which could result in an unsecured claim against the lender for the difference between the amount loaned to the Company plus interest due to the counterparty and the fair value of the collateral pledged by the Company to such lender, including accrued interest receivable on such collateral (see Notes 6 and 13).

The Company has elected the fair value option on certain of its financing agreements. These agreements are reported at their fair value, with changes in fair value being recorded in earnings each period (or OCI, to the extent the change results from a change in instrument specific credit risk), as further detailed in Note 6. Interest expense on such financing agreements is recorded based on the current stated interest rate and outstanding principal balance in effect for the related agreement.

(l) Equity-Based Compensation

Compensation expense for equity-based awards that are subject to vesting conditions, is recognized ratably over the vesting period of such awards, based upon the fair value of such awards at the grant date.

The Company has made annual grants of restricted stock units (“RSUs”) under the Company’s Equity Compensation Plan (the “Equity Plan”), certain of which cliff vest after a three-year period, subject only to continued employment, and others of which cliff vest after a three-year period, subject to both continued employment and the achievement of certain performance criteria based on a formula tied to the Company’s achievement of average total shareholder return (“TSR”) during that three-year period, as well as the TSR of the Company relative to the TSR of a group of peer companies (over the three-year period) selected by the Compensation Committee of the Company’s Board of Directors (the “Compensation Committee”) at the date of grant. The features in these awards related to the attainment of TSR over a specified period constitute a “market condition,” which impacts the amount of compensation expense recognized for these awards. Specifically, the uncertainty regarding the achievement of the market condition was reflected in the grant date fair value of the RSUs, which is recognized as compensation expense over the relevant vesting period. The amount of compensation expense recognized is not dependent on whether the market condition was or will be achieved.

MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

(m) Earnings per Common Share (“EPS”)

Basic EPS is computed using the two-class method, which includes the weighted-average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period and an estimate of other securities that participate in dividends, if any, to arrive at total common equivalent shares. In applying the two-class method, earnings are allocated to both shares of common stock and estimated securities that participate in dividends based on their respective weighted-average shares outstanding for the period. In calculating basic EPS, no adjustment is made to income available to common stockholders for forfeitable dividends or dividend equivalents. For the diluted EPS calculation, common equivalent shares are further adjusted for the effect of RSUs outstanding that are unvested and have dividends that are subject to forfeiture, using the treasury stock method. Under the treasury stock method, common equivalent shares are calculated assuming that all dilutive common stock equivalents are exercised and the proceeds, along with future compensation expenses associated with such instruments (if any), are used to repurchase shares of the Company’s outstanding common stock at the average market price during the reported period.

(n) Comprehensive Income/(Loss)

The Company’s comprehensive income/(loss) available to common stock and participating securities includes net income, the change in net unrealized gains/(losses) on its AFS securities and derivative hedging instruments (to the extent that such changes are not recorded in earnings), adjusted by realized net gains/(losses) reclassified out of AOCI for sold AFS securities and terminated hedging relationships, as well as the portion of unrealized gains/(losses) on its financing agreements held at fair value related to instrument-specific credit risk, and is reduced by dividends declared on the Company’s preferred stock and issuance costs of redeemed preferred stock.

(o) Derivative Financial Instruments

The Company may use derivative instruments to economically hedge a portion of its exposure to market risks, including interest rate risk and prepayment risk. The objective of the Company’s risk management strategy is to reduce fluctuations in net book value over a range of interest rate scenarios.

The Company has entered into interest rate swap agreements and ERIS swap futures (collectively, “Swaps”) that are not designated as hedges for accounting purposes. Changes in the fair value of the Company’s Swaps not designated in hedging transactions are recorded in Other Income/(Loss), net on the Company’s consolidated statements of operations.

The Company has also entered into forward contracts in the Agency MBS “to-be-announced” market (“TBA securities”) for the purchase of a generic pool of Agency MBS at a predetermined price, face amount, issuer, coupon and maturity based on an agreed upon future date. The specific Agency MBS to be delivered per the contract are not known until shortly before the settlement date. These transactions in TBA securities are accounted for as derivative financial instruments because it is not probable that the Company will physically settle the contract. Prior to settlement, the Company may choose to move the settlement date to a later date or terminate the contract and purchase a specific pool of Agency MBS. The Company did not apply hedge accounting to its TBA securities. Accordingly, TBA securities were recorded on the Company’s balance sheets at fair value in Other assets, with realized and unrealized changes in fair value each period recorded in Other income, net in the Company’s consolidated statements of operations.

(p) Fair Value Measurements and the Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities

The Company’s presentation of fair value for its financial assets and liabilities is determined within a framework that stipulates that the fair value of a financial asset or liability is an exchange price in an orderly transaction between market participants to sell the asset or transfer the liability in the market in which the reporting entity would transact for the asset or liability, that is, the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability. The transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability is a hypothetical transaction at the measurement date, considered from the perspective of a market participant that holds the asset or owes the liability. This definition of fair value focuses on exit price and prioritizes the use of market-based inputs over entity-specific inputs when determining fair value. In addition, the framework for measuring fair value establishes a three-level hierarchy for fair value measurements based upon the observability of inputs to the valuation of an asset or liability as of the measurement date.

In addition to the financial instruments that it is required to report at fair value, the Company has elected the fair value option for certain of its financial assets and liabilities at the time of acquisition or issuance. Subsequent changes in the fair value of these financial instruments are generally reported in Other Income/(Loss), net, in the Company’s consolidated statements of operations. A decision to elect the fair value option for an eligible financial instrument, which may be made on an instrument by instrument basis, is irrevocable (see Notes 2(b), 2(c), 3, 4, and 13).

MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

(q) Variable Interest Entities

An entity is referred to as a VIE if it meets at least one of the following criteria: (i) the entity has equity that is insufficient to permit the entity to finance its activities without the additional subordinated financial support of other parties; or (ii) as a group, the holders of the equity investment at risk lack (a) the power to direct the activities of an entity that most significantly impact the entity's economic performance; (b) the obligation to absorb the expected losses; or (c) the right to receive the expected residual returns; or (iii) the holders of the equity investment at risk have disproportional voting rights and the entity's activities are conducted on behalf of the investor that has disproportionately few voting rights.

The Company consolidates a VIE when it has both the power to direct the activities that most significantly impact the economic performance of the VIE and a right to receive benefits or absorb losses of the entity that could be potentially significant to the VIE. The Company is required to reconsider its evaluation of whether to consolidate a VIE each reporting period, based upon changes in the facts and circumstances pertaining to the VIE.

The Company has entered into several financing transactions which resulted in the Company forming entities to facilitate these transactions. In determining the accounting treatment to be applied to these transactions, the Company concluded that the entities used to facilitate these transactions are VIEs and that they should be consolidated. If the Company had determined that consolidation was not required, it would have then assessed whether the transfers of the underlying assets would qualify as sales or should be accounted for as secured financings under GAAP (see Note 14).

The Company also includes on its consolidated balance sheets certain financial assets and liabilities that are acquired/issued by trusts and/or other special purpose entities that have been evaluated as being required to be consolidated by the Company under the applicable accounting guidance.

The Company also has investments in certain VIEs, in which it is not considered to be the primary beneficiary and which are therefore not consolidated, but the VIEs are considered equity method investments. Each of these VIEs own a commercial property upon which the Company has foreclosed, as further described in Note 5.

(r) Offering Costs Related to Issuance and Redemption of Preferred Stock

Offering costs related to the issuance of preferred stock are recorded as a reduction in Additional paid-in capital, a component of Stockholders' Equity, at the time such preferred stock is issued. On redemption of preferred stock, any excess of the fair value of the consideration transferred to the holders of the preferred stock over the carrying amount of the preferred stock in the Company's consolidated balance sheets is included in the determination of Net Income Available to Common Stock and Participating Securities in the calculation of EPS.

(s) New Accounting Standards and Interpretations

As of March 31, 2026, there were no new accounting standards or interpretations adopted by the Company that had a material effect on its consolidated financial statements in the first quarter of 2026.

3. Residential Whole Loans

Included on the Company's consolidated balance sheets at March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025 are approximately $8.8 billion and $8.8 billion, respectively, of residential whole loans generally arising from the Company's interests in certain trusts established to acquire the loans and certain entities established in connection with its loan securitization transactions. The Company has assessed that these entities are required to be consolidated for financial reporting purposes. Starting in the second quarter of 2021, the Company elected the fair value option for all loan acquisitions, including loans originated by Lima One subsequent to its acquisition by the Company. Prior to the second quarter of 2021, the fair value option was typically elected only for loans that were 60 or more days delinquent at purchase.

The following table presents the components of the Company's Residential whole loans, and the accounting model designated at March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025:

- (1) Weighted average is calculated based on the interest bearing principal balance of each loan within the related category. For loans acquired with servicing rights released by the seller, interest rates included in the calculation do not reflect loan servicing fees. For loans acquired with servicing rights retained by the seller, interest rates included in the calculation are net of servicing fees. Certain Transitional Loans contain contractual features which increase the loan's interest rate following an event of default. The weighted average coupon presented is calculated based on each loan's coupon rate without regard to post-default rate adjustments.
- (2) For the quarter ended March 31, 2026, the gross coupon was 6.86% for Non-QM loans, 6.35% for Single-family rental loans, 10.25% for Single-family transitional loans, 10.23% for Multifamily transitional loans, and 5.09% for Legacy RPL/NPL loans. For the quarter ended December 31, 2025, the gross coupon was 6.88% for Non-QM loans, 6.37% for Single-family rental loans, 10.32% for Single-family transitional loans, 10.18% for Multifamily transitional loans, and 5.10% for Legacy RPL/NPL loans.
- (3) LTV represents the ratio of the total unpaid principal balance of the loan to the estimated value of the collateral securing the related loan as of the most recent date available, which may be the origination date. Excluded from the calculation of weighted average are certain low value loans secured by vacant lots, for which the LTV ratio is not meaningful.
- (4) Excludes loans for which no Fair Isaac Corporation ("FICO") score is available.
- (5) For Single-family and Multifamily transitional loans that are less than 90 days delinquent, the LTV presented is generally the ratio of the maximum unpaid principal balance of the loan, including unfunded commitments, to the estimated "after repaired" value of the collateral securing the related loan, as of the most recent date available, which may be the origination date. For Single-family and Multifamily transitional loans that are 90 or more days delinquent, as well as certain performing loans for which an after repaired valuation was not available, the LTV presented is the ratio of the current unpaid principal balance of the loan to the estimated as-is value of the collateral securing the related loan as of the most recent date available, which may be the origination date.

(1) Includes $3.8 million and $11.0 million of loans that were assessed for credit losses based on a collateral dependent methodology as of March 31, 2026 and 2025, respectively.

(2) Includes $26.7 million and $37.0 million of loans that were assessed for credit losses based on a collateral dependent methodology as of March 31, 2026 and 2025, respectively.

Estimates of credit losses under credit losses on financial instruments ("CECL") are highly sensitive to changes in assumptions, and current economic conditions have increased the difficulty of accurately forecasting future conditions.

The carrying value of Residential whole loans on nonaccrual status as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025 was $584.8 million and $579.9 million, respectively. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company recognized $2.7 million of interest income on loans on nonaccrual status, including $1.8 million on its portfolio of loans which were non-performing at acquisition. At March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, there were approximately $25.0 million and $25.7 million, respectively, of loans held at carrying value on nonaccrual status that did not have an associated allowance for credit losses because they were determined to be collateral dependent and the estimated fair value of the related collateral exceeded the carrying value of each loan, respectively.

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company granted one loan modification in its carrying value loan portfolio which gave the borrower an interest rate reduction. The interest rate reduction was 3.05%. As of March 31, 2026, the carrying value of this loan was approximately $0.11 million. As of March 31, 2026, this modification was not delinquent for more than 30 days.

During the past 12 months, the Company granted five loan modifications in its carrying value loan portfolio, which gave borrowers term extensions, with one of them including an interest rate reduction. The average increase in weighted average life was 2 months, and the interest rate reduction was 3.05%. As of March 31, 2026, the carrying value of these loans was approximately $0.50 million. As of March 31, 2026, only one of these loans was 120+ days delinquent.

(1) LTV represents the ratio of the total unpaid principal balance of the loan to the estimated value of the collateral securing the related loan as of the most recent date available, which may be the origination date. For Single-family and Multifamily transitional loans, the LTV presented is the ratio of the maximum unpaid principal balance of the loan, including unfunded commitments, to the estimated "after repaired" value of the collateral securing the related loan, where available. For certain Single-family transitional loans, an after repaired valuation was not obtained and the loan was underwritten based on an "as is" valuation. Excluded from the calculation of weighted average LTV are certain low value loans secured by vacant lots, for which the LTV is not meaningful.

Term Notes Backed by MSR Collateral

During the second quarter of 2025, the term notes backed by MSR collateral were repaid in full. Prior to repayment, the Company had term notes issued by SPVs that had acquired rights to receive cash flows representing the servicing fees and/or excess servicing spread associated with certain MSRs. Payment of principal and interest on these term notes was considered to be largely dependent on cash flows generated by the underlying MSRs, as this impacts the cash flows available to the SPV that issued the term notes.

CRT Securities

CRT securities are debt obligations issued by or sponsored by Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. The coupon payments on CRT securities are paid by the issuer and the principal payments received are dependent on the performance of loans in either a reference pool or an actual pool of loans. At March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had $34.6 million and $34.9 million, respectively, of CRT securities. As an investor in a CRT security, the Company may incur a principal loss if the performance of the actual or reference pool loans results in either an actual or calculated loss that exceeds the credit enhancement of the security owned by the Company. The Company assesses the credit risk associated with its investments in CRT securities by assessing the current and expected future performance of the associated loan pool. The Company pledges a portion of its CRT securities as collateral against its borrowings under repurchase agreements (see Note 6).

Non-Agency MBS

Non-Agency MBS are primarily secured by pools of residential mortgages, which are not guaranteed by an agency of the U.S. Government or any federally chartered corporation. At March 31, 2026, and December 31, 2025, the Company had $21.8 million and $22.1 million, respectively, of Non-Agency MBS. These securities were acquired on the de-consolidation of certain trusts that held previously securitized Agency Eligible investor loans.

(1) Includes amortization of premium paid net of accretion of purchase discount. Interest income is recorded at an effective yield, which reflects net premium amortization/accretion based on actual prepayment activity.

(2) The effective yield adjustment is the difference between the net income calculated using the net yield less the current coupon yield. The net yield may be based on management's estimates of the amount and timing of future cash flows or in the instrument's contractual cash flows, depending on the relevant accounting standards.

Commercial REO

In the third quarter of 2024, the Company received 75% and 49% interests, respectively, in two VIEs through foreclosure of a multifamily property and a senior living facility underlying delinquent commercial mortgage loans. Each of these entities was determined to be a VIE but the Company was not determined to be the primary beneficiary; as a result, the investments in the entities are considered equity method investments. Each entity accounts for its respective commercial REO property (the “Commercial REO”) similarly to the manner in which the Company accounts for its residential REO. The entities generally do not own any other significant assets or carry any significant liabilities, except that the two entities contain properties encumbered by third-party financing. As of December 31, 2025, one property was considered held-for-investment and one property was considered held-for-sale. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, the senior living facility property considered held-for-sale was sold for net proceeds of $17.4 million, with the Company’s share of the net realized gain totaling $0.4 million.

(b) Goodwill and Intangible Assets

On July 1, 2021, the Company completed the acquisition of Lima One. In connection with the acquisition of Lima One, the Company identified and recorded goodwill of $61.1 million and finite-lived intangible assets totaling $28.0 million. For the Lima One reporting unit, through the most recent testing date (October 1, 2025), no impairment has been recorded since the goodwill was initially recognized as the estimated fair value of the reporting unit has consistently exceeded its carrying value. Key assumptions used in the valuation included loan origination volume, expense levels, discount rates and capitalization multiples, all of which are subject to variability in the current market.

The amortization period for each of the finite lived intangible assets and the activity for the three months ended March 31, 2026 is summarized in the table below:

(Dollars in Thousands)	Carrying Value at December 31, 2025	Amortization Three months ended March 31, 2026	Carrying Value at March 31, 2026	Amortization Period (Years) (1)
Trademarks / Trade Names	$ 2,200	$ (100)	$ 2,100	10
Internally Developed Software	400	(200)	200	5
Total Identified Intangibles	$ 2,600	$ (300)	$ 2,300

(1) Amortization is calculated on a straight-line basis over the amortization period.

(c) Capital Contributions Made to Loan Origination Partners

The Company has made investments in several loan originators as part of its strategy to be a reliable source of capital to select partners from whom the Company sources residential mortgage loans through both flow arrangements and bulk purchases. At March 31, 2026, the carrying value of these investments (including adjustments for impairments or mark-to-market changes) was $20.6 million, including $5.5 million of common equity (including partnership interests) and $15.1 million of preferred equity.

During the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, there were no impairment charges recorded by the Company on its investments in loan origination partners.

Prior to December 31, 2024, the Company had elected to account for certain of these investments pursuant to the fair value option, where changes in estimated fair value were recorded on the statement of operations. Such changes in estimated fair value resulted in gains (losses) being recorded of $0.4 million and $0.8 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, respectively.

For certain of the Company’s investments, the interests acquired to date by the Company generally do not have a readily determinable fair value. Consequently, the Company accounts for these interests (including any acquired options and warrants) in loan originators initially at cost. The carrying value of these investments will be adjusted if it is determined that an impairment has occurred or if there has been a subsequent observable transaction in either the investee company’s equity securities or a similar security that provides evidence to support an adjustment to the carrying value. In addition, for certain partners, options or warrants have also been acquired that provide the Company the ability to increase the level of its investment if certain conditions are met. At the end of each reporting period, or earlier if circumstances warrant, the Company evaluates whether the nature of its interests and other involvement with the investee entity requires the Company to apply equity method accounting or consolidate the results of the investee entity with the Company’s financial results.

(d) Commercial Mortgage Loans

As of December 31, 2025, the Company owned two participations in commercial mortgage bridge loans, which are accounted for at fair value under the fair value option, and are classified as Level 3 fair value measurements in the fair value hierarchy. Each of the participations is 75% of the total UPB of the related loans and the remaining interest in each loan was retained by the originator of such loan. The commercial mortgage loans are collateralized by one multifamily property and one office property. The commercial mortgage loans are first liens and bear variable interest rates. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, the commercial mortgage loan secured by the office property was sold for $1.6 million, realizing losses, before the impact of the reversal of previously recognized unrealized losses, of $2.8 million. Upon sale, the Company reversed $3.0 million of previously recognized unrealized losses, resulting in a net gain on sale of $0.2 million. Only the commercial mortgage loan secured by the multifamily property remains as of March 31, 2026.

The following table presents certain additional information about the Company’s commercial mortgage loans as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025:

(Dollars In Thousands)	Fair Value / Carrying Value	UPB	Weighted Average Coupon (I)	Weighted Average Term to Maturity (Months)	UPB 60+ Days Delinquent	Weighted Average LTV Ratio
Commercial Loans - March 31, 2026	$ 4,510	$ 4,510	10.58 %	0	$ 4,510	80 %
Commercial Loans - December 31, 2025	$ 6,079	$ 9,385	10.60 %	0	$ 9,385	189 %

(1) Commercial Loans contain contractual features which increase the loan’s interest rate following an event of default. The weighted average coupon presented is calculated based on each loan’s coupon rate without regard to post-default rate adjustments.

(e) Derivative Instruments

Swaps

The Company’s derivative instruments include both interest rate swap agreements and ERIS swap futures, which are used to economically hedge the interest rate risk associated with certain borrowings. Pursuant to these arrangements, the Company agreed to pay a fixed rate of interest and receive a variable interest rate, generally based on the Secured Overnight Financing Rate (“SOFR”), on the notional amount of the Swap. At March 31, 2026, none of the Company’s Swaps were designated as hedges for accounting purposes.

Variation margin payments on the Company’s Swaps are treated as a legal settlement of the exposure under the related Swap contract, the effect of which reduces what would have otherwise been reported as the fair value of the Swap, generally to zero.

The following table presents the assets pledged as collateral against the Company’s Swaps:

(In Thousands)	March 31, 2026	December 31, 2025

9.00% Senior Notes due 2029	Unsecured	75,000	72,858	9.94 %	43.5
Impact of net Swap carry				(0.54)%
Total Financing agreements (2)		$ 10,986,858	$ 10,940,014	4.51 %

(1) The Company has both financing agreements held at fair value and financing agreements held at their carrying value (amortized cost basis). Financing agreements held at fair value are reported at estimated fair value each period as a result of the Company's fair value option election. The fair value option was not elected for financing agreements held at carrying value. Consequently, total financing agreements as presented reflects a summation of balances reported at fair and carrying value. At March 31, 2026, the Company had $82.1 million of agreements with mark-to-market collateral provisions held at fair value, $32.4 million of agreements with non-mark-to-market collateral provisions held at fair value, and $5.8 billion of securitized debt held at fair value, with amortized cost basis of $82.1 million, $32.4 million, and $5.8 billion, respectively. At December 31, 2025, the Company had $61.1 million of agreements with mark-to-market collateral provisions held at fair value, $48.2 million of agreements with non-mark-to-market collateral provisions held at fair value, and $5.8 billion of securitized debt held at fair value, with amortized cost basis of $61.1 million, $48.2 million, and $5.9 billion, respectively.

(2) Weighted average cost of funding reflects annualized quarter-to-date interest expense (inclusive of the amortization of deferred financing costs) divided by average balance for the financing agreements. The cost of funding for the total financing agreements includes the impact of the net Swap carry (the difference between Swap interest income received and Swap interest expense paid) on the Company's Swaps. For the three months ended March 31, 2026, this decreased the overall funding cost by 40 basis points, and for the three months ended December 31, 2025, this decreased the overall funding cost by 54 basis points. The Company does not allocate the impact of the net Swap carry by type of financing agreement.

(3) Up to $20 million of the unpaid principal balance is subject to a 60-day call period at the counterparty's option.

(a) Other Information on Financing Agreements

8.875% Senior Notes due 2029 (“8.875% Senior Notes”)

In January 2024, the Company completed the issuance of $115.0 million in aggregate principal amount of its 8.875% Senior Notes in an underwritten public offering. The 8.875% Senior Notes are senior unsecured obligations of the Company and bear interest at a rate equal to 8.875% per year, payable in cash quarterly in arrears on February 15, May 15, August 15, and November 15 of each year, beginning on May 15, 2024, and are expected to mature on February 15, 2029, unless earlier redeemed. The Company may redeem the 8.875% Senior Notes in whole or in part at any time at the Company’s option on or after February 15, 2026, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the outstanding principal amount of the 8.875% Senior Notes to be redeemed plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but excluding, the redemption date. The 8.875% Senior Notes have an effective interest rate, including the impact of amortization to interest expense of debt issuance costs, of 9.83%.

9.00% Senior Notes due 2029 (“9.00% Senior Notes”)

On April 17, 2024, the Company completed the issuance of $75.0 million in aggregate principal amount of its 9.00% Senior Notes in an underwritten public offering. The 9.00% Senior Notes are senior unsecured obligations of the Company and bear interest at a rate equal to 9.00% per year, payable in cash quarterly in arrears on February 15, May 15, August 15, and November 15 of each year, beginning on August 15, 2024, and are expected to mature on August 15, 2029, unless earlier redeemed. The Company may redeem the 9.00% Senior Notes in whole or in part at any time at the Company’s option on or after August 15, 2026, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the outstanding principal amount of the 9.00% Senior Notes to be redeemed plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but excluding, the redemption date. The 9.00% Senior Notes have an effective interest rate, including the impact of amortization to interest expense of debt issuance costs, of 9.94%.

Both the 8.875% Senior Notes and the 9.00% Senior Notes are the Company’s senior unsecured obligations and are (i) effectively junior to all of the Company’s secured indebtedness, which includes the Company’s repurchase agreements and other financing arrangements, to the extent of the value of the collateral securing such indebtedness and (ii) equal in right of payment to each other and to the Company’s existing and future senior unsecured obligations, if any.

(b) Counterparties

The Company had financing agreements, including repurchase agreements and other forms of secured financing, with 16 and 16 counterparties at March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. The following table presents information with respect to each counterparty under financing agreements for which the Company had greater than 5% of stockholders' equity at risk in the aggregate at March 31, 2026:

(1) An aggregate of $29.6 million and $27.0 million of accrued interest on those assets pledged against non-mark-to-market and mark-to-market financing agreements had also been pledged as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

(2) Includes an aggregate of $396.0 million and $466.9 million of mark-to-market financing collateralized by Non-Agency MBS with a fair value of $497.6 million and $600.0 million obtained in connection with the Company's loan securitization transactions that are eliminated in consolidation as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

The Company pledges securities or cash as collateral to its counterparties in relation to certain of its financing arrangements. The Company exchanges collateral with its counterparties based on changes in the fair value, notional amount and term of the associated financing arrangements and Swaps, as applicable. In connection with these margining practices, either the Company or its counterparty may be required to pledge cash or securities as collateral. When the Company's pledged collateral exceeds the required margin, the Company may initiate a reverse margin call, at which time the counterparty may either return the excess collateral or provide collateral to the Company in the form of cash or equivalent securities. The Company's assets pledged as collateral are also described in Notes 2(e) - Restricted Cash and 5(e) - Derivative Instruments.

Certain of the Company's financing arrangements and derivative transactions are governed by underlying agreements that generally provide for a right of setoff in the event of default or in the event of a bankruptcy of either party to the transaction. In the Company's consolidated balance sheets, all balances associated with repurchase agreements are presented on a gross basis.

7. Other Liabilities

The following table presents the components of the Company's Other liabilities at March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025:

(In Thousands)	March 31, 2026	December 31, 2025

Total Other Liabilities	$ 332,636	$ 278,740

8. Income Taxes

The Company has elected to be taxed as a REIT under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, (the "Code"), and the corresponding provisions of state law. The Company expects to operate in a manner that will enable it to satisfy the various requirements to maintain its status as a REIT for federal income tax purposes. In order to maintain its status as a REIT, the Company must, among other things, distribute at least 90% of its REIT taxable income (excluding net long-term capital gains) to stockholders in the timeframe permitted by the Code. As long as the Company maintains its status as a REIT, the Company will not be subject to regular federal income tax at the REIT level to the extent that it distributes 100% of its REIT taxable income (including net long-term capital gains) to its stockholders within the permitted timeframe. Should this not occur, the Company would be subject to federal taxes at prevailing corporate tax rates on the difference between its REIT taxable income and the amounts deemed to be distributed for that tax year. The Company's objective is to distribute 100% of its REIT taxable income to its stockholders within the permitted timeframe. If the Company fails to distribute during each calendar year, or by the end of January following the calendar year in the case of distributions with declaration and record dates falling in the last three months of the calendar year, at least the sum of (i) 85% of its REIT ordinary income for such year, (ii) 95% of its REIT capital gain income for such year, and (iii) any undistributed taxable income from prior periods, the Company would be subject to a 4% nondeductible excise tax on the excess of the required distribution over the amounts actually distributed. To the extent that the Company incurs interest, penalties or related excise taxes in connection with its tax obligations, including as a result of its assessment of uncertain tax positions, such amounts will be included in Operating and Other Expense on the Company's consolidated statements of operations.

In addition, the Company has elected to treat certain of its subsidiaries as TRS. In general, a TRS may hold assets and engage in activities that the Company cannot hold or engage in directly and generally may engage in any real estate or non-real estate-related business. Generally, a domestic TRS is subject to U.S. federal, state and local corporate income taxes. Given that a portion of the Company's business is conducted through one or more TRS, the net taxable income earned by its domestic TRS, if any, is subject to corporate income taxation. To maintain the Company's REIT election, no more than 25% of the value of the Company's assets at the end of each calendar quarter may consist of stock or securities in TRS. For purposes of the determination of U.S. federal and state income taxes, the Company's subsidiaries that elected to be treated as TRS record current or deferred income taxes based on differences (both permanent and timing) between the determination of their taxable income and net income under GAAP.

Based on its analysis of any potentially uncertain tax positions, the Company concluded that it does not have any material uncertain tax positions that meet the relevant recognition or measurement criteria as of March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025 or March 31, 2025. As of the date of this filing, the Company's tax returns for tax years 2022 through 2024 are open to examination.

MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

The tax effects of temporary differences that give rise to significant portions of net deferred tax assets (“DTAs”) recorded at the Company’s domestic TRS entities at March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025 are presented in the following table:

(In Thousands)	March 31, 2026	December 31, 2025
Deferred tax assets (DTAs):
Net operating loss and tax credit carryforwards	$ 107,395	$ 104,004
Unrealized mark-to-market, impairments and loss provisions	17,640	17,602
Other realized / unrealized treatment differences	(41,822)	(39,080)
Total deferred tax assets	83,213	82,526
Less: valuation allowance	(83,213)	(82,526)
Net deferred tax assets	$ —	$ —

Realization of the Company’s DTAs at March 31, 2026 is dependent on several factors, including generating sufficient taxable income to utilize net operating loss (“NOL”) carryforwards and generating sufficient capital gains in future periods prior to the expiration of capital loss carryforwards. The Company determines the extent to which realization of the deferred assets is not expected to be more likely than not and establishes a valuation allowance accordingly.

No net deferred tax benefit was recorded by the Company for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, related to the net taxable losses in TRS entities, since a valuation allowance for the full amount of the associated deferred tax asset at the ends of those periods was recognized as its recovery was not considered more likely than not. The related NOL carryforwards can be carried forward indefinitely, until fully utilized. The Company’s estimate of net DTAs could change in future periods to the extent that actual or revised estimates of future taxable income change from current expectations.

At March 31, 2026, the Company’s federal NOL carryforward from prior years was $410.1 million, which may be carried forward indefinitely. If certain substantial changes in the Company’s ownership occur, there could be an annual limitation on the amount of the carryforwards that can be utilized.

The following table summarizes the Company’s income tax provision/(benefit) primarily recorded at the Company’s domestic TRS entities for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025:

9. Commitments and Contingencies

(a) Lease Commitments

The Company's primary lease commitment relates to its corporate headquarters. For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company recorded an expense in connection with this lease of approximately $0.9 million and $1.3 million, respectively. In February 2026, the Company entered into an agreement with the landlord for the current corporate headquarters to accelerate the contractual expiration of its lease with 30 days' notice or by November 30, 2026. The Company did not pay any early termination fee in connection with this agreement. As of March 2026, in connection with the lease modification, the Company modified the right-of-use assets and lease obligations and recognized a gain of approximately $3.4 million, and recognized accelerated depreciation expense related to the remaining undepreciated tenant improvements at the Company's current corporate headquarters totaling approximately $2.4 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026.

In February 2026, the Company entered into a ten-year lease agreement for new corporate headquarters office space located in New York City, with an expected lease commencement date in the fourth quarter of 2026, and expected future annual rental expense of approximately $1.8 million.

Additionally, in December 2024, Lima One executed a new office lease for its headquarters in Greenville, South Carolina. Lima One moved into the new office space on July 15, 2025. For the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company recorded an expense in connection with this lease of approximately $0.6 million. The original term specified in this lease is approximately nine years with a termination date of December 2033 and two options to renew for an additional four years for the first extension and an additional five years for the second extension.

The Company recognized total lease expense of $1.5 million and $1.7 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, respectively, which is included in Other general and administrative expense on the Company's consolidated statements of operations.

At March 31, 2026, the contractual minimum rental payments (exclusive of possible rent escalation charges and normal recurring charges for maintenance, insurance and taxes) for the Company's lease commitments were as follows:

Year Ending December 31, (In Thousands)	Minimum Rental Payments
2026 (1)	$ 3,456
2027	2,676
2028	2,492
2029	2,474
2030	2,458
Thereafter	7,799
Total	$ 21,355
Present Value Discount	(5,115)
Total Lease Liability (Note 7)	$ 16,240

(1) Reflects contractual minimum rental payments due for the period from April 1, 2026 through December 31, 2026.

(b) Representations and Warranties in Connection with Loan Securitization and Other Loan Sale Transactions

In connection with the loan securitization and sale transactions entered into by the Company, the Company has the obligation under certain circumstances to repurchase assets previously transferred to securitization vehicles, or otherwise sold, upon breach of certain representations and warranties. As of March 31, 2026, the Company was not aware of any material unsettled repurchase claims that would require a reserve (see Note 14).

(c) Loan Commitments

At March 31, 2026, the Company had unfunded commitments in connection with its Single-family and Multifamily transitional loans of $276.7 million and $20.2 million, respectively (see Note 3). These commitments are subject to certain conditions that the respective borrowers must meet before funding is required. In addition, from time to time, Lima One makes short-term commitments to originate mortgage loans; such commitments were not significant at March 31, 2026.

(d) Guarantee

In connection with one of its investments in a loan origination partner, as of March 31, 2026, the Company has guaranteed up to $51 million of such investee's warehouse financing. As of March 31, 2026, the Company has not recorded a loss in connection with this guarantee.

(e) Litigation

The Company reserves for contingent liabilities when it is determined that a liability is probable and reasonably estimable. Litigation is subject to many factors that are difficult to predict, so there can be no assurance that, in the event of a material unfavorable result in one or more claims, the Company will not incur material costs.

The Company is not presently named as a defendant in any material litigation arising outside the ordinary course of business. However, the Company is from time to time involved in litigation arising in the course of its business activities. As of March 31, 2026, the Company has an aggregate litigation reserve totaling $1.1 million and estimates additional reasonably possible losses of up to $1.1 million.

(a) Preferred Stock

7.50% Series B Cumulative Redeemable Preferred Stock ("Series B Preferred Stock")

On April 15, 2013, the Company completed the issuance of 8.0 million shares of its Series B Preferred Stock with a par value of $0.01 per share, and a liquidation preference of $25.00 per share plus accrued and unpaid dividends, in an underwritten public offering. On August 15, 2025, the Company filed an articles supplementary to the amended and restated articles of incorporation, which increased the number of authorized shares of Series B Preferred Stock to 12.1 million. Also on August 15, 2025, the Company entered into a distribution agreement pursuant to the terms of which the Company may, from time to time, offer and sell shares of its preferred stock having an aggregate gross sales price of up to $100.0 million. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, 60,439 shares of Series B Preferred Stock were issued for gross proceeds of approximately $1.2 million.

The Company's Series B Preferred Stock is entitled to receive a dividend at a rate of 7.50% per year on the $25.00 liquidation preference before the Company's common stock is paid any dividends and is senior to the Company's common stock with respect to distributions upon liquidation, dissolution or winding up. Dividends on the Series B Preferred Stock are payable quarterly in arrears on or about March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31 of each year. The Series B Preferred Stock is redeemable at $25.00 per share plus accrued and unpaid dividends (whether or not authorized or declared), exclusively at the Company's option.

The Series B Preferred Stock generally does not have any voting rights, subject to an exception in the event the Company fails to pay dividends on such stock for six or more quarterly periods (whether or not consecutive). Under such circumstances, the Series B Preferred Stock will be entitled to vote to elect two additional directors to the Company's Board of Directors (the "Board"), until all unpaid dividends have been paid or declared and set apart for payment. In addition, certain material and adverse changes to the terms of the Series B Preferred Stock cannot be made without the affirmative vote of holders of at least 66.67% of the outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock.

The following table presents cash dividends declared by the Company on its Series B Preferred Stock from January 1, 2025 through March 31, 2026:

Declaration Date	Record Date	Payment Date	Annual Dividend Rate	Dividend Per Share

6.50% Series C Fixed-to-Floating Rate Cumulative Redeemable Preferred Stock ("Series C Preferred Stock")

On February 28, 2020, the Company amended its charter through the filing of articles supplementary to reclassify 12,650,000 shares of the Company's authorized but unissued common stock as shares of the Company's Series C Preferred Stock. On March 2, 2020, the Company completed the issuance of 11.0 million shares of its Series C Preferred Stock with a par value of $0.01 per share, and a liquidation preference of $25.00 per share plus accrued and unpaid dividends, in an underwritten public offering. The total net proceeds the Company received from the offering were approximately $266.0 million, after deducting offering expenses and the underwriting discount. On August 15, 2025, the Company filed an articles supplementary to the amended and restated articles of incorporation, which increased the number of authorized shares of Series C Preferred Stock to 16.7 million. Also on August 15, 2025, the Company entered into a distribution agreement pursuant to the terms of which the Company may, from time to time, offer and sell shares of its preferred stock having an aggregate gross sales price of up to $100.0 million. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, 100,015 shares of Series C Preferred Stock were issued for gross proceeds of approximately $2.3 million.

The Company's Series C Preferred Stock is entitled to receive dividends (i) from and including the original issue date to, but excluding, March 31, 2025, at a fixed rate of 6.50% per year on the $25.00 liquidation preference and (ii) from and after March 31, 2025, at a floating rate equal to three-month London Interbank Offered Rate ("LIBOR") plus a spread of 5.345% per year of the $25.00 per share liquidation preference before the Company's common stock is paid any dividends, and is senior to the Company's common stock with respect to distributions upon liquidation, dissolution or winding up. In light of the discontinuance of the publication of three-month LIBOR after June 2023 and pursuant to the Adjustable Interest Rate (LIBOR) Act and the Federal Reserve’s final rules promulgated thereunder, the three-month CME Term SOFR (Secured Overnight Financing Rate) has replaced three-month LIBOR as the successor base rate and includes an additional spread adjustment of 0.26161% per year based on the recommendation from the Alternative Reference Rate Committee. Dividends on the Series C Preferred Stock are payable quarterly in arrears on or about March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31 of each year. The Company may, at its option, subject to certain procedural requirements, redeem any or all of the shares of the Series C Preferred Stock for cash at a redemption price of $25.00 per share, plus any accrued and unpaid dividends thereon (whether or not authorized or declared) to, but excluding, the redemption date.

The Series C Preferred Stock generally does not have any voting rights, subject to an exception in the event the Company fails to pay dividends on such stock for six or more quarterly periods (whether or not consecutive). Under such circumstances, the Series C Preferred Stock will be entitled to vote to elect two additional directors to the Company’s Board, until all unpaid dividends have been paid or declared and set apart for payment. In addition, certain material and adverse changes to the terms of the Series C Preferred Stock cannot be made without the affirmative vote of holders of at least 66.67% of the outstanding shares of Series C Preferred Stock.

March 6, 2025	March 31, 2025	April 30, 2025	0.36

(1) At March 31, 2026, the Company had accrued dividends and dividend equivalents payable of $37.7 million related to the common stock dividend declared on March 5, 2026.

(c) Preferred Stock At-the-Market Offering Program

On August 15, 2025, the Company entered into a distribution agreement pursuant to the terms of which the Company may, from time to time, offer and sell shares of its Series B Preferred Stock and/or its Series C Preferred Stock having an aggregate gross sales price of up to $100.0 million, through various sales agents in transactions deemed to be “at-the-market” offerings under federal securities laws (the “Preferred Stock ATM Program”). The Company sold an aggregate of 160,454 shares of preferred stock through the Preferred Stock ATM Program during the current quarter for gross sales proceeds of approximately $3.6 million. As of March 31, 2026, approximately $86.9 million remained available under the Preferred Stock ATM Program.

(d) Common Stock At-the-Market Offering Program

On August 15, 2025, the Company entered into a distribution agreement pursuant to the terms of which the Company may offer and sell shares of its common stock having an aggregate gross sales price of up to $300.0 million, from time to time, through various sales agents in transactions deemed to be “at-the-market” offerings under federal securities laws (the “Common Stock ATM Program”). The prior distribution agreement entered into on February 29, 2024, which had substantially the same terms, was terminated.

MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

The Company did not sell any shares of common stock through the Common Stock ATM Program during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025.

(e) Stock Repurchase Program

On February 29, 2024, the Company announced its Board had authorized a $200 million stock repurchase program with respect to the Company's common stock, which was in effect through the end of 2025. Approximately $190 million remained available for repurchase under the stock repurchase program upon its expiration. On February 12, 2026, the Company's Board authorized a new $200 million stock repurchase program with respect to the Company's common stock, which will be in effect through December 31, 2028.

The stock repurchase program does not require the purchase of any minimum number of shares. The timing and extent to which the Company repurchases its shares will depend upon, among other things, market conditions, share price, liquidity, regulatory requirements and other factors, and repurchases may be commenced or suspended at any time without prior notice. Acquisitions under the stock repurchase program may be made in the open market, through privately negotiated transactions or block trades or other means, in accordance with applicable securities laws (including, in the Company's discretion, through the use of one or more plans adopted under Rule 10b5-1 promulgated under the Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act")).

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company repurchased 500,660 shares of its common stock through the stock repurchase program at an average cost of approximately $10.00 per share and a total cost of approximately $5.0 million, net. The Company did not repurchase any shares of its common stock during the three months ended March 31, 2025. At March 31, 2026, approximately $195 million remained available under the current authorization for the purchase of the Company's common stock under the stock repurchase program.

Diluted weighted average common shares outstanding (1)	106,297	105,379
Diluted Earnings/(Loss) per Share	$ (0.11)	$ 0.31

(1) At March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company had approximately 1,073,000 and 800,000 equity instruments outstanding that were excluded from the calculation of diluted EPS for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, as they were determined to be anti-dilutive. These equity instruments reflect RSUs (based on current estimate of expected share settlement amount) with a weighted average grant date fair value of $9.92 and $10.37, respectively. These equity instruments may have a dilutive impact on future EPS.

12. Equity Compensation and Other Benefit Plans

(a) Equity Compensation Plan

In accordance with the terms of the Company's Equity Plan, which was approved by the Company's stockholders on June 3, 2025 (and which amended and restated the Company's Equity Compensation Plan, which had been most recently approved in June 2023), directors, officers and employees of the Company and any of its subsidiaries and other persons expected to provide significant services for the Company and any of its subsidiaries are eligible to receive grants of stock options ("Options"), restricted stock, RSUs, dividend equivalent rights and other stock-based awards under the Equity Plan.

Subject to certain exceptions, stock-based awards relating to a maximum of 13.2 million shares of common stock may be granted under the Equity Plan; forfeitures and/or awards that expire unexercised do not count toward this limit. At March 31, 2026, approximately 7.4 million shares of common stock remained available for grant in connection with stock-based awards under the Equity Plan. A participant may generally not receive stock-based awards in excess of 2.0 million shares of common stock in any one year and no award may be granted to any person who, assuming exercise of all Options and payment of all awards held by such person, would own or be deemed to own more than 9.8% of the outstanding shares of the Company's common stock. Unless previously terminated by the Board, awards may be granted under the Equity Plan until June 3, 2035.

Restricted Stock Units

Under the terms of the Equity Plan, RSUs are instruments that provide the holder with the right to receive, subject to the satisfaction of conditions set by the Compensation Committee at the time of grant, a payment of a specified value, which may be a share of the Company's common stock, the fair market value of a share of the Company's common stock, or such fair market value to the extent in excess of an established base value, on the applicable settlement date. Although the Equity Plan permits the Company to issue RSUs that can settle in cash, all of the Company's outstanding RSUs as of March 31, 2026 are designated to be settled in shares of the Company's common stock. The Company granted 2,090,500 and 1,453,017 RSUs during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, respectively. There were 0 and 262,670 RSUs forfeited during the three months ended March 31,

MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

2026 and 2025, respectively. There were 424,947 and 482,079 RSUs surrendered to satisfy tax obligations during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, respectively. All holders of RSUs outstanding at March 31, 2026 may be entitled to receive dividend equivalent payments depending on the terms and conditions of the award either in cash at the time dividends are paid by the Company or at the time of settlement of the RSU award, or for performance-based RSU awards, as a grant of stock at the time such awards are settled. At March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had unrecognized compensation expense of $14.2 million and $7.2 million, respectively, related to RSUs. The unrecognized compensation expense at March 31, 2026, is expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of 2.2 years.

Restricted Stock

The Company did not grant any shares of restricted common stock during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025. At March 31, 2026, the Company did not have any unvested shares of restricted common stock outstanding, and no restricted shares vested during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025.

Dividend Equivalents

A dividend equivalent is a right to receive a distribution equal to the dividend distributions that would be paid on a share of the Company’s common stock. Dividend equivalents may be granted as a separate instrument or may be a right associated with the grant of another award (e.g., an RSU) under the Equity Plan, and they are paid typically in cash or other consideration at such times and in accordance with such rules as the Compensation Committee of the Board shall determine in its discretion. Dividend equivalent payments are generally charged to Stockholders’ Equity when common stock dividends are declared to the extent that such equivalents are expected to vest. The Company made dividend equivalent payments associated with RSU awards of approximately $2.3 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026, and approximately $0.3 million during the three months ended March 31, 2025. In addition, no dividend equivalents rights awarded as separate instruments were granted during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025.

Expense Recognized for Equity-Based Compensation Instruments

The following table presents the Company’s expenses related to its equity-based compensation instruments for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025:

(In Thousands)	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2026	2025
RSUs	$ 6,329	$ 6,052
Total	$ 6,329	$ 6,052

(b) Deferred Compensation Plans

The Company administers deferred compensation plans for its senior officers and non-employee directors (collectively, the “Deferred Plans”), pursuant to which participants may elect to defer up to 100% of certain cash compensation. The Deferred Plans are designed to align participants’ interests with those of the Company’s stockholders.

Amounts deferred under the Deferred Plans are considered to be converted into “stock units” of the Company. Stock units do not represent stock of the Company, but rather are a liability of the Company that changes in value as would equivalent shares of the Company’s common stock. Deferred compensation liabilities are settled in cash at the termination of the deferral period, based on the value of the stock units at that time. The Deferred Plans are non-qualified plans under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 and, as such, are not funded. Prior to the time that the deferred accounts are settled, participants are unsecured creditors of the Company.

MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

The Company's liability for stock units in the Deferred Plans is based on the market price of the Company's common stock at the measurement date. The following table presents the Company's expenses (reversal) related to its Deferred Plans for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025:

(1) Represents the cumulative amounts that were deferred by participants through March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, which had not been distributed through such respective date.

13. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

GAAP requires the categorization of fair value measurements into three broad levels that form a hierarchy. A financial instrument's categorization within the valuation hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The three levels of valuation hierarchy are defined as follows:

Level 1 — Inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.

Level 2 — Inputs to the valuation methodology include quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, and inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the financial instrument.

Level 3 — Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The following describes the valuation methodologies used for the Company's financial instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis, as well as the general classification of such instruments pursuant to the valuation hierarchy.

Residential Whole Loans, at Fair Value

The Company determines the fair value of its residential whole loans held at fair value after considering valuations obtained from third parties that specialize in providing valuations of residential mortgage loans. The valuation approach applied generally depends on whether the loan is considered performing or non-performing at the date the valuation is performed. For performing loans, estimates of fair value are derived using a discounted cash flow approach, where estimates of cash flows are determined from the scheduled payments, adjusted using forecasted prepayment, default and loss given default rates. For non-performing loans, asset liquidation cash flows are derived based on the estimated time to liquidate the loan, the estimated value of the collateral, expected costs and estimated home price levels. Estimated cash flows for both performing and non-performing loans are discounted at yields considered appropriate to arrive at a reasonable exit price for the asset. Indications of loan value such as actual trades, bids, offers and generic market color may be used in determining the appropriate discount yield. The Company's residential whole loans held at fair value are classified as Level 3 in the fair value hierarchy; however, the Company determined that the market inputs used in valuing its Agency eligible investor loans were sufficiently observable to be classified as Level 2.

MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

Securities, at Fair Value

Residential Mortgage Securities

In determining the fair value of the Company's residential mortgage securities, management considers a number of observable market data points, including prices obtained from pricing services and brokers as well as dialogue with market participants. Valuations of TBA securities positions are based on executed levels for positions entered into and either settled or subsequently rolled forward at a future date, as well as prices obtained from pricing services for outstanding positions at each reporting date. These valuations are assessed for reasonableness by considering market TBA levels observed via Bloomberg for the same coupon and term to maturity. In valuing Non-Agency MBS, the Company understands that pricing services use observable inputs that include, in addition to trading activity observed in the marketplace, loan delinquency data, credit enhancement levels and vintage, which are taken into account to assign pricing factors such as spread and prepayment assumptions. The Company collects and considers current market intelligence on all major markets, including benchmark security evaluations and bid-lists from various sources, when available.

The Company's residential mortgage securities are valued using various market data points as described above, which management considers directly or indirectly observable parameters. Accordingly, these securities are classified as Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy.

Financing Agreements, at Fair Value

Agreements with mark-to-market collateral provisions

These agreements are secured and subject to margin calls and their base interest rates reset frequently to market based rates. As a result, no credit valuation adjustment is required, and the primary factor in determining their fair value is the credit spread paid over the base rate, which is a non-observable input as it is determined based on negotiations with the counterparty. The Company's financing agreements with mark-to-market collateral provisions held at fair value are classified as Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy if the credit spreads used to price the instrument reset frequently, which is typically the case with shorter term repurchase agreement contracts collateralized by securities. Financing agreements with mark-to-market collateral provisions that are typically longer term and are collateralized by residential whole loans where the credit spread paid over the base rate on the instrument is not reset frequently are classified as Level 3 in the fair value hierarchy.

Agreements with non-mark-to-market collateral provisions

These agreements are secured, but not subject to margin calls based on changes in the fair value of the financed residential whole loans. Such agreements may experience changes in advance rates or collateral eligibility as a result of factors such as changes in the delinquency status of the financed residential whole loans. As a result, a credit valuation adjustment would only be required if there were a significant decrease in collateral value, and the primary factor in determining their fair value is the credit spread paid over the base rate, which is a non-observable input as it is determined based on negotiations with the counterparty. The Company's financing agreements with non-mark-to-market collateral provisions held at fair value are classified as Level 3 in the fair value hierarchy.

Securitized Debt

In determining the fair value of securitized debt, management considers a number of observable market data points, including prices obtained from pricing services and brokers as well as dialogue with market participants, consistent with the valuation methodology for residential mortgage securities. Accordingly, the Company's securitized debt is classified as Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy.

Swaps

Variation margin payments on the Company's Swaps are treated as a legal settlement of the exposure under the related Swap contract, the effect of which reduces what would have otherwise been reported as the fair value of the Swap, generally to zero. The Company receives prices from pricing services to validate the fair value of the Swaps.

Changes to the valuation methodologies used with respect to the Company's financial instruments are reviewed by management to ensure any such changes result in appropriate exit price valuations. The Company will refine its valuation methodologies as markets and products develop and pricing methodologies evolve. The methods described above may produce fair value estimates that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, while the Company believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with those used by market participants, the use of different methodologies, or assumptions, to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different estimate of fair value at the reporting date. The Company uses inputs that are current as of the measurement date, which may include periods of market dislocation, during which price transparency may be reduced. The Company reviews the classification of its financial instruments within the fair value hierarchy on a quarterly basis, and management may conclude that its financial instruments should be reclassified to a different level in the future.

The following tables present the Company's financial instruments carried at fair value on a recurring basis as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, on the consolidated balance sheets by the valuation hierarchy, as previously described:

Residential Whole Loans, at Fair Value

The following tables present a summary of quantitative information about the significant unobservable inputs used in the fair value measurement of the Company's residential whole loans held at fair value for which it has utilized Level 3 inputs to determine fair value as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, dollars in thousands:

March 31, 2026
Fair Value (1)	Valuation Technique	Unobservable Input	Weighted Average (2)	Range
				Min	Max
$ 7,312,494	Discounted cash flow	Discount rate	6.5 %	5.6 %	20.0 %
		Prepayment rate	17.7 %	— %	49.9 %
		Default rate	1.6 %	— %	64.3 %
		Loss severity	11.3 %	— %	100.0 %
$ 317,410	Liquidation model	Discount rate	9.3 %	8.0 %	20.0 %
		Annual change in home prices	1.7 %	— %	6.7 %
		Liquidation timeline (in years)	1.7	0.8	4.5
		Current value of underlying properties (3)	$772	$50	$13,250
$ 7,629,904

(1) Excludes approximately $59.5 million of Residential whole loans, at fair value, with a UPB of $100.0 million, which were marked-to-market, but not based on a model, at March 31, 2026.

(2) Amounts are weighted based on the fair value of the underlying loan.

(3) Amounts represent simple average values of the properties underlying residential whole loans held at fair value.

December 31, 2025
Fair Value (1)	Valuation Technique	Unobservable Input	Weighted Average (2)	Range
				Min	Max
$ 7,196,955	Discounted cash flow	Discount rate	6.5 %	5.5 %	20.0 %
		Prepayment rate	17.1 %	— %	50.5 %
		Default rate	1.6 %	— %	68.2 %
		Loss severity	11.4 %	— %	100.0 %
$ 330,295	Liquidation model	Discount rate	9.1 %	8.0 %	20.0 %
		Annual change in home prices	1.9 %	(0.9)%	8.7 %
		Liquidation timeline (in years)	1.7	0.1	4.5
		Current value of underlying properties (3)	$748	$19	$11,400
$ 7,527,250

(1) Excludes approximately $138.7 million of Residential whole loans, at fair value, with a UPB of $170.8 million, which were marked-to-market, but not based on a model at December 31, 2025.

(2) Amounts are weighted based on the fair value of the underlying loan.

(3) Amounts represent simple average values of the properties underlying residential whole loans held at fair value.

Changes in market conditions, as well as changes in the assumptions or methodology used to determine fair value, could result in a significant increase or decrease in the fair value of residential whole loans. Loans valued using a discounted cash flow model are most sensitive to changes in the discount rate assumption, while loans valued using the liquidation model technique are most sensitive to changes in the current value of the underlying properties and the liquidation timeline. Increases in discount rates, default rates, loss severities, or liquidation timelines, either in isolation or collectively, would generally result in a lower fair value measurement, whereas increases in the current or expected value of the underlying properties, in isolation, would result in a higher fair value measurement. In practice, changes in valuation assumptions may not occur in isolation and the changes in any particular assumption may result in changes in other assumptions, which could offset or amplify the impact on the overall valuation.

Other Assets Measured at Fair Value on a Nonrecurring Basis

The Company holds REO and Commercial REO (see Note 5) at the lower of the current carrying amount or fair value less estimated selling costs. The Company classifies fair value measurements of REO as Level 3 in the fair value hierarchy.

REO - During the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company recorded REO with an aggregate estimated fair value, less estimated cost to sell, of $25.3 million and $25.4 million, respectively, at the time of foreclosure. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company reclassified one REO property originally classified as held for investment to held for sale status and marked it down to its estimated fair value, less estimated cost to sell, of $2.1 million.

Commercial REO - During the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company did not record any new Commercial REO, and did not record any valuation adjustments on Commercial REO.

14. Use of Special Purpose Entities and Variable Interest Entities

A Special Purpose Entity (“SPE”) is an entity designed to fulfill a specific limited need of the company that organized it. SPEs are often used to facilitate transactions that involve securitizing financial assets or re-securitizing previously securitized financial assets. The objective of such transactions may include obtaining non-recourse financing, obtaining liquidity or refinancing the underlying financial assets on improved terms. Securitization involves transferring assets to a SPE to convert all or a portion of those assets into cash before they would have been realized in the normal course of business, through the SPE’s issuance of debt or equity instruments. Investors in a SPE usually have recourse only to the assets in the SPE and, depending on the overall structure of the transaction, may benefit from various forms of credit enhancement such as over-collateralization in the form of excess assets in the SPE, priority with respect to receipt of cash flows relative to holders of other debt or equity instruments issued by the SPE, or a line of credit or other form of liquidity agreement that is designed with the objective of ensuring that investors receive principal and/or interest cash flow on the investment in accordance with the terms of their investment agreement.

The Company has entered into several financing transactions that resulted in the Company consolidating as VIEs the SPEs that were created to facilitate these transactions. See Note 2(q) for a discussion of the accounting policies applied to the consolidation of VIEs and transfers of financial assets in connection with financing transactions.

The Company has engaged in loan securitizations primarily for the purpose of obtaining improved overall financing terms as well as non-recourse financing on a portion of its residential whole loan portfolio. Notwithstanding the Company’s participation in these transactions, the risks facing the Company are largely unchanged as the Company remains economically exposed to the first loss position on the underlying assets transferred to the VIEs.

Loan Securitization Transactions

The following table summarizes the key details of the Company’s consolidated loan securitization transactions currently outstanding as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025:

(1) Net of $0.8 million and $0.9 million of deferred financing costs at March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

(2) At March 31, 2026, 99.1% and 0.9% of Senior Bonds had a fixed and variable rate, respectively. At December 31, 2025, 99.6% and 0.4% of Senior Bonds had a fixed and variable rate, respectively.

(3) At March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, $4.6 billion and $4.7 billion, respectively, of Senior Bonds sold in securitization transactions contained a contractual coupon step-up feature whereby the coupon increases by either 100, or 300 basis points at defined dates ranging from 30 months, up to 48 months from issuance if the bond is not redeemed before such date.

(4) Provides credit support to the Senior Bonds sold to third-party investors in the securitization transactions.

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company issued Senior Bonds with a current face of $710.9 million to third-party investors for proceeds of $710.2 million before offering costs and accrued interest. During the three months ended March 31, 2025, the Company issued Senior Bonds with a current face of $283.4 million to third-party investors for proceeds of $283.4 million before offering costs and accrued interest. The Senior Bonds issued by the Company during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025 are included in Financing agreements on the Company’s consolidated balance sheets (see Note 6). During the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company liquidated three SPE (which had been formed in 2023) and repaid the remaining $470.1 million of outstanding Senior Bonds issued by such SPE.

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, as a result of the transactions described above, securitized loans of approximately $7.4 billion and $7.6 billion are included in Residential whole loans and REO with a carrying value of approximately

MFA FINANCIAL, INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2026

$54.9 million and $52.4 million are included in Other assets on the Company's consolidated balance sheets, respectively. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the aggregate carrying value of Senior Bonds issued by consolidated VIEs was $6.3 billion and $6.3 billion, respectively. These Senior Bonds are disclosed as Securitized debt and are included in Financing agreements on the Company's consolidated balance sheets. The holders of the securitized debt have no recourse to the general credit of the Company, but the Company does have the obligation, under certain circumstances, to repurchase assets from the VIE upon the breach of certain representations and warranties with respect to the residential whole loans sold to the VIE. In the absence of such a breach, the Company has no obligation to provide any other explicit or implicit support to any VIE.

The Company concluded that the entities created to facilitate the loan securitization transactions are VIEs. The Company completed an analysis of whether each VIE created to facilitate the securitization transactions should be consolidated by the Company, based on consideration of its involvement in each VIE, including the design and purpose of the SPE, and whether its involvement reflected a controlling financial interest that resulted in the Company being deemed the primary beneficiary of each VIE. In determining whether the Company would be considered the primary beneficiary, the following factors were assessed:

- whether the Company has both the power to direct the activities that most significantly impact the economic performance of the VIE; and
- whether the Company has a right to receive benefits or absorb losses of the entity that could be potentially significant to the VIE.

Based on its evaluation of the factors discussed above, including maintaining certain rights in each entity including rights to direct loss mitigation activities and its involvement in the purpose and design of the entity, the Company determined that it was required to consolidate each VIE created to facilitate the loan securitization transactions.

The Company also invests in securities issued by SPEs that may be VIEs. The Company is not the primary beneficiary of these SPEs, because it does not have the power to direct the activities that most significantly impact their economic performance, and therefore does not consolidate them. For these entities, the Company's maximum exposure to loss is the amortized cost basis of the securities it owns, and it does not provide any liquidity arrangements, guarantees or other commitments to these entities. For more information on the Company's investments in securities, see Note 4.

The Company also has interests in certain entities which are deemed to be VIEs that hold commercial property (see Note 5). The Company's maximum exposure to loss with respect to these entities is their carrying value, which aggregated $12.2 million at March 31, 2026.

Residential Whole Loans and REO (including Residential Whole Loans and REO transferred to consolidated VIEs)

Included on the Company's consolidated balance sheets as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025 are a total of $8.8 billion and $8.8 billion, respectively, of residential whole loans. These assets, excluding certain loans originated and held by Lima One, and certain of the Company's REO assets, are directly owned by certain trusts established by the Company to acquire the loans and entities established in connection with the Company's loan securitization transactions. The Company has assessed that these entities are required to be consolidated (see Notes 3 and 5(a)).

15. Segment Reporting

At March 31, 2026, the Company's reportable segments include (i) mortgage-related assets and (ii) Lima One. The Corporate column in the table below primarily consists of corporate cash and related interest income, investments in loan originators and related economics, general and administrative expenses not directly attributable to Lima One, interest expense on unsecured senior notes (see Note 6), securitization issuance costs, and preferred stock dividends. The Company's segments are managed by its "chief operating decision maker" or "CODM" as defined under GAAP; the Company's CODM is its Chief Executive Officer. The CODM utilizes the segment reporting as part of their analysis of relative segment performance in deciding where to focus resources to enhance the Company's future performance.

The following tables summarize segment financial information, which in total reconciles to the same data for the Company as a whole:

REO plus allocations of the results of financings which include Lima One related residential whole loans and REO as part of their collateral, based on the relative carrying values of the financed assets. Associated hedging economics are equal to allocations of the Company's overall hedging results based on the relative estimated duration of each asset class hedged and the relative fair values of assets within each asset class.

Mortgage-Related Assets Segment

This segment is comprised of the remainder of the Company's investments (including any related taxes and the economics of associated financing and hedging instruments).

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

In this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, we refer to MFA Financial, Inc. and its subsidiaries as "the Company," "MFA," "we," "us," or "our," unless we specifically state otherwise or the context otherwise indicates.

The following discussion should be read in conjunction with our financial statements and accompanying notes included in Item 1 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q as well as our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025.

Forward Looking Statements

When used in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, in future filings with the SEC or in press releases or other written or oral communications, statements which are not historical in nature, including those containing words such as "will," "believe," "expect," "anticipate," "estimate," "plan," "continue," "intend," "should," "could," "would," "may," the negative of these words or similar expressions, are intended to identify "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act and Section 21E of the Exchange Act and, as such, may involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and assumptions.

These forward-looking statements include information about possible or assumed future results with respect to our business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations, plans and objectives. Among the important factors that could cause our actual results to differ materially from those projected in any forward-looking statements that we make are: general economic developments and trends, including the current tensions in international trade and the performance of the labor, housing, real estate, mortgage finance and broader financial markets; inflation, increases in interest rates and changes in the market (i.e., fair) value of our residential whole loans, MBS, securitized debt and other assets, as well as changes in the value of our liabilities accounted for at fair value through earnings; the effectiveness of hedging transactions; changes in the prepayment rates on residential mortgage assets, an increase of which could result in a reduction of the yield on certain investments in our portfolio and could require us to reinvest the proceeds received by us as a result of such prepayments in investments with lower coupons, while a decrease in which could result in an increase in the interest rate duration of certain investments in our portfolio making their valuation more sensitive to changes in interest rates and could result in lower forecasted cash flows; credit risks underlying our assets, including changes in the default rates and management's assumptions regarding default rates and loss severities on the mortgage loans in our residential whole loan portfolio; our ability to borrow to finance our assets and the terms, including the cost, maturity and other terms, of any such borrowings; implementation of or changes in government regulations or programs affecting our business (including as a result of the current U.S. administration); our estimates regarding taxable income the actual amount of which is dependent on a number of factors, including, but not limited to, changes in the amount of interest income and financing costs, the method elected by us to accrete the market discount on residential whole loans and the extent of prepayments, realized losses and changes in the composition of our residential whole loan portfolios that may occur during the applicable tax period, including gain or loss on any MBS disposals or whole loan modifications, foreclosures and liquidations; the timing and amount of distributions to stockholders, which are declared and paid at the discretion of our Board and will depend on, among other things, our taxable income, our financial results and overall financial condition and liquidity, maintenance of our REIT qualification and such other factors as the Board deems relevant; our ability to maintain our qualification as a REIT for federal income tax purposes; our ability to maintain our exemption from registration under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (or the Investment Company Act), including statements regarding the concept release issued by the SEC relating to interpretive issues under the Investment Company Act with respect to the status under the Investment Company Act of certain companies that are engaged in the business of acquiring mortgages and mortgage-related interests; our ability to continue growing our residential whole loan portfolio, which is dependent on, among other things, the supply of loans offered for sale in the market; targeted or expected returns on our investments in recently-originated mortgage loans, the performance of which is, similar to our other mortgage loan investments, subject to, among other things, differences in prepayment risk, credit risk and financing costs associated with such investments; risks associated with the ongoing operation of Lima One Holdings, LLC (including, without limitation, industry competition, unanticipated expenditures relating to or liabilities arising from its operation (including, among other things, a failure to realize management's assumptions regarding expected growth in business purpose loan (BPL) origination volumes and credit risks underlying BPLs, including changes in the default rates and management's assumptions regarding default rates and loss severities on the BPLs originated by Lima One)); expected returns on our investments in nonperforming residential whole loans (or NPLs), which are affected by, among other things, the length of time required to foreclose upon, sell, liquidate or otherwise reach a resolution of the property underlying the NPL, home price values, amounts advanced to carry the asset (e.g., taxes, insurance, maintenance expenses, etc. on the underlying property) and the amount ultimately realized upon resolution of the asset; risks associated with our investments in loan originators; the failure to realize the expected expense savings resulting from the anticipated relocation of our corporate headquarters in New York City; risks associated with investing in real estate assets generally, including changes in business conditions and the general economy; and other risks, uncertainties and factors, including those described in the annual, quarterly and current reports that we file with the SEC. These forward-looking statements are based on beliefs, assumptions and expectations of our future performance, taking into account information currently available. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date on which they are made. New risks and uncertainties arise over time and it is not possible to predict those events or how they may affect us. Except as required by law, we are not obligated to, and do not intend to, update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Business/General

We are a specialty finance company that invests in and finances residential mortgage assets. We invest, on a leveraged basis, in residential whole loans, residential mortgage securities and other real estate assets. Through our wholly-owned subsidiary, Lima One, a leading nationwide originator and servicer of business purpose loans (or BPLs), we also originate and service business purpose loans for real estate investors. Our principal business objective is to deliver shareholder value through the generation of distributable income and through asset performance linked to residential mortgage credit fundamentals. We selectively invest in residential mortgage assets with a focus on credit analysis, projected prepayment rates, interest rate sensitivity and expected return. We are an internally-managed real estate investment trust.

At March 31, 2026, we had total assets of approximately $13.2 billion, of which $8.8 billion, or 66%, represented residential whole loans. Our residential whole loans include primarily: (i) loans to finance (or refinance) one-to-four family residential properties that are not considered to meet the definition of a “Qualified Mortgage” in accordance with guidelines adopted by the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (“Non-QM loans”), (ii) business purpose loans primarily originated by Lima One, to finance (or refinance) non-owner occupied one-to-four family residential properties that are rented to one or more tenants (“Single-family rental loans”), (iii) short-term business purpose loans primarily originated by Lima One, collateralized by residential properties made to non-occupant borrowers that generally intend to rehabilitate or construct residential housing and then refinance or sell the properties (“Single-family transitional loans”), (iv) short-term business purpose loans primarily originated by Lima One, collateralized by multifamily properties, typically with a loan balance below $10 million, made to non-occupant borrowers that generally intend to rehabilitate or stabilize and then refinance or sell the properties (“Multifamily transitional loans,” collectively with Single-family transitional loans, “Transitional loans,” also sometimes referred to as “Rehabilitation loans” or “Fix and Flip loans” and, collectively with Single-family rental loans, “Business purpose loans”), (v) loans primarily secured by residential real estate that were generally either non-performing or re-performing at acquisition (“Legacy RPL/NPL”) and (vi) loans on investor properties that conform to the standards for purchase by a federally chartered corporation, such as the Federal National Mortgage Association (“Fannie Mae”) or the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (“Freddie Mac”) (“Agency eligible investor loans,” which are included in “Other loans”). In addition, at March 31, 2026, we had approximately $3.5 billion, or 27%, of total assets invested in investments in Agency MBS.

The results of our business operations are affected by a number of factors, many of which are beyond our control, and primarily depend on, among other things, the level of our net interest income and the market value of our assets, liabilities and hedges that are accounted for at fair value through earnings, which is driven by numerous factors, including the supply and demand for residential mortgage assets in the marketplace, the terms and availability of adequate financing, general economic and real estate conditions (both on a national and local level), the impact of government actions in the real estate and mortgage sector, and the credit performance of our credit sensitive residential mortgage assets. Changes in these factors, or uncertainty in the market regarding the potential for changes in these factors, can result in significant changes in the value and/or performance of our investment portfolio. Further, our GAAP results may be impacted by market volatility, resulting in changes in market values of certain financial instruments for which changes in fair value are recorded in net income each period, including certain residential whole loans, securitized debt and Swaps. Our net interest income varies primarily as a result of changes in interest rates, the slope of the yield curve (i.e., the differential between long-term and short-term interest rates), borrowing costs (i.e., our interest expense), the level of loan delinquencies, which may result in changes in the amount of non-accrual loans, and prepayment speeds, the behavior of which involves various risks and uncertainties. Interest rates and conditional prepayment rates (or CPRs) (which is an annualized measure of the amount of unscheduled principal prepayments on an asset as a percentage of the asset balance), vary according to the type of investment, conditions in the financial markets, competition and other factors, none of which can be predicted with any certainty. Our financial results are also impacted by estimates of credit losses that are required to be recorded when loans that are not accounted for at fair value through net income are acquired or originated, as well as changes in these credit loss estimates that will be required to be made periodically.

With respect to our business operations, increases in interest rates, in general, may, over time, cause: (i) the interest expense associated with our borrowings to increase; (ii) the value of certain of our residential mortgage assets and securitized debt to decline; (iii) coupons on our adjustable-rate assets to reset, on a delayed basis, to higher interest rates; (iv) prepayments on our assets to decline, thereby slowing the amortization of purchase premiums and the accretion of our purchase discounts, and slowing our ability to redeploy capital to generally higher yielding investments; and (v) the value of our derivative hedging instruments, if any, to increase. Conversely, decreases in interest rates, in general, may, over time, cause: (i) the interest expense associated with our borrowings to decrease; (ii) the value of certain of our residential mortgage assets and securitized debt, to increase; (iii) coupons on our adjustable-rate assets, on a delayed basis, to lower interest rates; (iv) prepayments on our assets to increase, thereby accelerating the amortization of purchase premiums and the accretion of our purchase discounts, and accelerating the redeployment of our capital to generally lower yielding investments; and (v) the value of our derivative hedging instruments, if any, to decrease. Further, changes in spreads will also impact the valuation of our residential mortgage assets and securitized debt, which could result in volatility in GAAP earnings. In addition, our borrowing costs and credit lines are further affected by the type of collateral we pledge and general conditions in the credit market.

Our investments in residential mortgage assets expose us to credit risk, meaning that we are generally subject to credit losses due to the risk of delinquency, default and foreclosure on the underlying real estate collateral. Our investment process for credit sensitive assets focuses primarily on quantifying and pricing credit risk. With respect to investments in Business purpose and Non-QM loans, we believe that sound underwriting standards, including low LTVs at origination, significantly mitigate our risk of loss. Further, we believe the discounted purchase prices paid on Legacy RPL/NPL loans mitigate our risk of loss in the event that we receive less than 100% of the unpaid principal balance of these investments.

Premiums arise when we acquire an MBS at a price in excess of the aggregate principal balance of the mortgages securing the MBS (i.e., par value) or when we acquire residential whole loans at a price in excess of their unpaid principal balance. Conversely, discounts arise when we acquire an MBS at a price below the aggregate principal balance of the mortgages securing the MBS or when we acquire residential whole loans at a price below their unpaid principal balance. Accretible purchase discounts on these investments are accreted to interest income. Premiums paid to purchase loans are amortized against interest income over the life of the investment using the effective yield method, adjusted for actual prepayment activity. An increase in the prepayment rate, as measured by the CPR, will typically accelerate the amortization of purchase premiums, thereby reducing the interest income earned on these assets.

CPR levels are impacted by, among other things, conditions in the housing market, new regulations, government and private sector initiatives, interest rates, availability of credit to home borrowers, underwriting standards and the economy in general. In particular, CPR presents the annualized constant rate of principal repayment in excess of scheduled principal amortization. CPRs on our residential mortgage securities and whole loans may differ significantly. For the three months ended March 31, 2026, the average CPRs on certain of our loan portfolios were: 15.9% for Non-QM loans, 9.5% for Single-family rental loans, and 5.9% for Legacy RPL/NPL loans. In addition, for the three months ended March 31, 2026, the repayment rate (which includes both scheduled and unscheduled repayments of principal) was 65.4% for our Single-family transitional loans and 43.6% for our Multifamily transitional loans.

It is generally our business strategy to hold our residential mortgage assets as long-term investments. As part of Lima One's mortgage banking activities, from time to time, we sell certain loans shortly after origination. On at least a quarterly basis, excluding investments for which the fair value option has been elected or for which specialized loan accounting is otherwise applied, we assess our ability and intent to continue to hold each asset and, as part of this process, we monitor our investments in securities that are designated as AFS for impairment. A change in our ability and/or intent to continue to hold any of these securities that are in an unrealized loss position, or a deterioration in the underlying characteristics of these securities, could result in our recognizing future impairment charges or a loss upon the sale of any such security.

Our residential mortgage investments have longer-term contractual maturities than our non-securitization related financing liabilities, and the interest rates we pay on our non-securitization related financings will typically change at a faster pace than the interest rates we earn on our investments. In order to reduce this interest rate risk exposure, we may enter into derivative instruments, which currently include Swaps.

Recent Market Conditions and Our Strategy

During the first quarter of 2026, fixed-income markets saw renewed volatility as investors navigated an anticipated significant transition in Federal Reserve leadership, escalating geopolitical tensions, and persistent concerns regarding inflation and deficit spending. During the quarter, market sentiment shifted towards a prolonged “higher for longer” Federal Reserve policy regarding interest rates, as the Iran conflict triggered renewed concerns regarding inflation and deficit spending and stalled expectations for more rate cuts. The 10-year Treasury rate rose by approximately 15 basis points during the quarter to 4.32% at quarter-end, while the Bloomberg US Aggregate Index was flat during the quarter. Agency MBS spreads finished the quarter wider, benefiting early from the announcement of a $200 billion GSE purchase program, but giving back gains as volatility accelerated in March. Despite these challenges, during the quarter, we were able to add approximately $1.1 billion of our target assets at attractive yields, including $470.6 million of Non-QM loans, $392.8 million of Agency MBS and $200.6 million of Business purpose loan originations and draws on existing Transitional loans by Lima One. We also opportunistically initiated a long position in TBA securities with a notional balance of $300.0 million during the quarter. During the quarter, we called three securitizations and issued two new securitizations collateralized by Non-QM loans with an unpaid principal balance of $757.2 million.

During the quarter, we generated GAAP net loss per share (or EPS) of $(0.11) per basic common share and Distributable earnings, a non-GAAP financial measure that excludes the impact of fair value changes and certain other items, of $0.30 per basic common share. For the quarter, compensation and benefits and other G&A expenses were $34.3 million and included approximately $2.4 million in accelerated depreciation related to the exit of the lease for our current corporate headquarters. At March 31, 2026, our GAAP book value was $12.70 and our Economic book value, a non-GAAP financial measure of our financial position that adjusts GAAP book value by the amount of unrealized mark-to-market gains or losses on our residential whole loans and securitized debt held at carrying value, was $13.22 per common share, each representing decreases of approximately 4% as compared to December 31, 2025. During the quarter, we declared dividends totaling $0.36 per common share.

For the quarter, our Lima One subsidiary originated Business purpose loans with a maximum unpaid principal balance of $219 million, a decrease from the $226 million originated in the fourth quarter of 2025. During the previous year, we expanded Lima One’s sales force, invested in technology initiatives that we expect to improve the borrower experience, and made key hires to Lima One’s leadership team in strategic growth areas. In early 2026, we relaunched multifamily lending and began funding loans through our newly established wholesale channel, which represent two key areas of growth for Lima One. During the quarter, Lima One sold recently originated Single-family rental loans with an unpaid principal balance of $78.2 million to third parties and realized gains of $2.7 million. We believe that these sales to third parties help to strengthen Lima One’s franchise value, create additional distribution channels to accommodate future growth, and enhance returns.

For additional information regarding the calculation of Distributable earnings and Economic book value per share, including a reconciliation to GAAP Net Income and GAAP book value per share, respectively, refer to “Reconciliation of GAAP and Non-GAAP Financial Measures” below.

First quarter 2026 portfolio activity and impact on financial results

At March 31, 2026, our residential mortgage asset portfolio, which includes residential whole loans and REO, and Securities, at fair value, was approximately $12.5 billion, compared to $12.3 billion at December 31, 2025.

The following table presents the activity for our residential mortgage asset portfolio for the three months ended March 31, 2026:

(In Millions)	December 31, 2025	Runoff (1)	Acquisitions & Originations (2)	Other (3)	March 31, 2026	Change
Residential whole loans and REO	$ 8,945	$ (570)	$ 671	$ (124)	$ 8,922	$ (23)
Securities, at fair value	3,360	(128)	393	(39)	3,586	226
Total	$ 12,305	$ (698)	$ 1,064	$ (163)	$ 12,508	$ 203

(1) Primarily includes principal repayments and sales of REO.

(2) Includes draws on previously originated Transitional loans.

(3) Primarily includes sales of residential whole loans and securities, changes in fair value and changes in the allowance for credit losses.

At March 31, 2026, our total recorded investment in residential whole loans and REO was $8.9 billion, or 71.3% of our residential mortgage asset portfolio. Of this amount, $5.5 billion are Non-QM loans, $1.2 billion are Single-family rental loans, $0.7 billion are Single-family transitional loans, $0.4 billion are Multifamily transitional loans and $0.9 billion are Legacy RPL/NPL loans. Loan acquisition activity of $671.1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 included $125.6 million of Single-family transitional loans (including draws), $470.6 million of Non-QM loans, $74.2 million of Single-family rental loans and $0.8 million of Multifamily transitional loans (including draws). For the three months ended March 31, 2026, we recognized approximately $143.1 million of residential whole loan interest income on our consolidated statements of operations, representing an effective yield of 6.42%, with Single-family transitional loans generating an effective yield of 8.85%, Multifamily transitional loans generating an effective yield of 6.70%, Single-family rental loans generating an effective yield of 6.31%, Non-QM loans generating an effective yield of 5.90% and Legacy RPL/NPL loans generating an effective yield of 7.93%. Since the second quarter of 2021 we have elected the fair value option for all loan acquisitions, and 88% of our total loan portfolio is measured at fair value through earnings. Included in earnings in Other Income/(Loss), net are net gains/(losses) on these loans of $34.8 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026. At March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, we had REO with an aggregate carrying value of $138.7 million and $135.0 million, respectively, which is included in Other assets on our consolidated balance sheets.

At March 31, 2026, we held $3.6 billion of Securities, at fair value, including $3.5 billion of Agency MBS, $34.6 million of CRT securities and $21.8 million of Non-Agency MBS. For the three months ended March 31, 2026, we purchased $392.8 million of Agency MBS securities. The net yield on our Securities, at fair value was 5.47% for the three months ended March 31, 2026, compared to 5.56% for the three months ended December 31, 2025.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, we recorded a reversal of provision for credit losses on residential whole loans held at carrying value of $0.2 million. The total allowance for credit losses recorded on residential whole loans held at carrying value at March 31, 2026 was $9.4 million.

During the first quarter of 2026, we completed two securitizations collateralized by $757.2 million UPB of Non-QM loans. These securitizations provided longer term, non-recourse, fixed rate financing. We continue to closely follow the actions of the Federal Reserve regarding the path and timing of changes in interest rates and the impact such rate changes would be expected to have on levels of inflation, the overall economic environment and our business.

Our GAAP book value per common share was $12.70 as of March 31, 2026 and was $13.20 as of December 31, 2025. Economic book value per common share, a non-GAAP financial measure, was $13.22 as of March 31, 2026, a decrease from $13.75 as of December 31, 2025. The decrease in GAAP book value and Economic book value during the first quarter of 2026 primarily reflects the net loss applicable to common stockholders as well as dividends declared on our common stock. For additional information regarding the calculation of Economic book value per share, including a reconciliation to GAAP book value per share, refer to “Reconciliation of GAAP and Non-GAAP Financial Measures” below.

For more information regarding market factors which impact our portfolio, see Part I, Item 1A. “Risk Factors” in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025 and Item 3. “Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk” of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q.

Total	$ 5,531,387	$ 1,318,650	$ 947,573	$ 50,383

(1) Includes loans on which borrowers have defaulted and are not making payments of principal and/or interest as of March 31, 2026.

(2) Excludes an allowance for credit losses.

Our Transitional loans contain various contractual extension features, typically ranging from three to twenty-four months subject to certain conditions, generally including our consent. Transitional loans are generally only extended if the loan is current and in compliance with various other loan terms. Given the short duration of our Transitional loans, maturity extensions are a regular occurrence, irrespective of market conditions. At March 31, 2026, approximately 77% of our Multifamily transitional loans and 27% of our Single-family transitional loans held as of period end had been extended.

For additional information regarding our residential whole loan portfolios, including information about delinquency trends, see Note 3 to the consolidated financial statements, included under Item 1 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q.

Tax Considerations

Current period estimated taxable income

We estimate that for the three months ended March 31, 2026, our REIT taxable income was approximately $29.9 million.

Key differences between GAAP net income and REIT Taxable Income

Residential Whole Loans and Securities

The determination of taxable income attributable to residential whole loans and securities is dependent on a number of factors, including principal payments, defaults, loss mitigation efforts and loss severities. In estimating taxable income for such investments during the year, management considers estimates of the amount of discount expected to be accreted. Such estimates require significant judgment and actual results may differ from these estimates.

Potential timing differences can arise with respect to the accretion of discount and amortization of premium into income as well as the recognition of gain or loss for tax purposes as compared to GAAP. For example: a) while our REIT uses fair value accounting for GAAP in some instances, it generally is not used for purposes of determining taxable income; b) impairments generally are not recognized by us for income tax purposes until the asset is written-off or sold; c) capital losses may only be recognized by us to the extent of our capital gains; capital losses in excess of capital gains generally are carried over by us for potential offset against future capital gains; and d) tax hedge gains and losses resulting from the termination of Swaps by us generally are amortized over the remaining term of the Swap.

Securitization

Generally, securitization transactions for GAAP and tax can be characterized as either sales or financings, depending on transaction type, structure and available elections. For GAAP purposes, our securitizations have generally been treated as on-balance sheet financing transactions. For tax purposes, they have been characterized primarily as sale transactions.

Where a securitization has been characterized as a sale, gain or loss is recognized for tax purposes. In addition, we own or may in the future acquire interests in securitization and/or re-securitization trusts, in which several of the classes of securities are or will be issued with original issue discount (or OID). As the holder of the retained interests in the trust, for tax purposes we generally will be required to include OID in our current gross interest income over the term of the applicable securities as the OID accrues. The rate at which the OID is recognized into taxable income is calculated using a constant rate of yield to maturity, with realized losses impacting the amount of OID recognized in REIT taxable income once they are actually incurred. REIT taxable income may be recognized in excess of economic income (i.e., OID) or in advance of the corresponding cash flow from these assets, thereby affecting our dividend distribution requirement to stockholders.

For securitization and/or re-securitization transactions that were treated as a sale of the underlying collateral for tax purposes, the unwinding of any such transaction will likely result in taxable income or loss. Given that securitization and re-securitization transactions are typically accounted for as financing transactions for GAAP purposes, such income or loss is not likely to be recognized for GAAP. As a result, the income recognized from securitization and re-securitization transactions may differ for tax and GAAP purposes.

Whether our investments are held by our REIT or one of its Taxable REIT Subsidiaries (TRS)

We estimate that for the three months ended March 31, 2026, our net TRS taxable income (loss) will be $(13.4) million. Net income or loss generated by our TRS subsidiaries is included in consolidated GAAP net income, but may not be included in REIT taxable income in the same period. REIT taxable income generally does not include taxable income of the TRS unless and until it is distributed to the REIT. For example, because our securitization transactions that are treated as a sale for tax purposes are undertaken by a domestic TRS, any gain or loss recognized on the sale is not included in our REIT taxable income until it is distributed by the TRS. Similarly, the income earned from loans, securities, REO and other investments held by our domestic TRS is excluded from REIT taxable income until it is distributed by the TRS. Net income of our foreign domiciled TRS subsidiaries is included in REIT taxable income as if distributed to the REIT in the taxable year it is earned by the foreign domiciled TRS. A TRS may carry forward its net taxable losses indefinitely as net operating losses to offset up to 80% of its taxable income in future tax years, but REIT taxable income generally does not include the net taxable loss of a TRS unless the TRS liquidates for tax purposes.

Consequently, our REIT taxable income calculated in a given period may differ significantly from our GAAP net income.

General

For the first quarter of 2026, we had a net loss available to our common stock and participating securities of $(11.4) million, or $(0.11) per basic and diluted common share, compared to net income available to common stock and participating securities of $43.6 million, or $0.42 per basic and diluted common share, for the fourth quarter of 2025. The decrease in net income available to common stock and participating securities in the current period compared to the prior period primarily reflects a $(49.1) million change in Other income/(loss), net and higher primarily non-cash operating expenses, partially offset by a $3.7 million increase to net interest income.

Net Interest Income

Net interest income represents the difference between income on interest-earning assets and expense on interest-bearing liabilities. Net interest income depends primarily upon the volume of interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities and the corresponding interest rates earned or paid. Our net interest income varies primarily as a result of changes in interest rates, the slope of the yield curve (i.e., the differential between long-term and short-term interest rates), borrowing costs (i.e., our interest expense), the level of loan delinquencies, which may result in changes in the amount of non-accrual loans, and prepayment speeds on our investments. Interest rates and CPRs (which measure the amount of unscheduled principal prepayment on a bond or loan as a percentage of its unpaid balance) vary according to the type of investment, conditions in the financial markets and other factors, none of which can be predicted with any certainty.

The changes in average interest-earning assets and average interest-bearing liabilities and their related yields and costs are discussed in greater detail below under “Interest Income” and “Interest Expense.”

For the first quarter of 2026, our net interest spread and margin (including the impact of net Swap carry) were 1.64% and 2.23%, respectively, compared to a net interest spread and margin (including the impact of net Swap carry) of 1.69% and 2.31%, respectively, for the fourth quarter of 2025. Our net interest income increased by $3.7 million and was $59.2 million for the first quarter of 2026, compared to $55.5 million for the fourth quarter of 2025. For the first quarter of 2026, net interest income, which does not include the benefit of net Swap carry, includes higher net interest income from our securities portfolio of $4.3 million, compared to the fourth quarter of 2025, primarily due to an increase in interest income from higher average balances of our securities portfolio and a decrease in interest expense from lower rates on our securities repurchase agreements, partially offset by an increase in interest expense from higher average balances of our securities repurchase agreements. Net interest income for the first quarter of 2026 also includes higher net interest income from our residential whole loan portfolio of $0.4 million, compared to the fourth quarter of 2025, primarily due to a decrease in interest expense from lower rates on our residential whole loan financing agreements and securitized debt, partially offset by a decrease in interest income from lower yield on our residential whole loan portfolio.

Analysis of Net Interest Income

The following table sets forth certain information about the average balances of our assets and liabilities and their related yields and costs for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025. Average yields are derived by dividing annualized interest income by the average amortized cost basis of the related assets, and average costs are derived by dividing annualized interest expense by the average balance of the related liabilities, for the periods shown. The yields and costs may include premium amortization and discount accretion which are considered adjustments to interest income or expense.

(1) Yields presented throughout this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q are calculated using average amortized cost basis data for residential whole loans and securities, which excludes unrealized gains and losses. For GAAP reporting purposes, securities purchases and sales are reported on the trade date. Average amortized cost basis data used to determine yields is calculated based on the settlement date of the associated purchase or sale as interest income is not earned on purchased assets and continues to be earned on sold assets until settlement date.

(2) Includes average interest-earning cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash.

(3) Includes both securitized debt, at carrying value, and securitized debt, at fair value.

(4) Collateralized financing agreements include the following: mark-to-market asset based financing and non-mark-to-market asset based financing. For additional information, see Note 6, included under Item 1 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q.

(5) Net interest rate spread reflects the difference between the yield on average interest-earning assets and average cost of funds.

(6) Reflects the impact of positive or negative net Swap carry. Positive net Swap carry results when income from the receive leg of a Swap is greater than the expense on the pay leg. Negative net Swap carry results when income from the receive leg is less than the expense on the pay leg.

(7) Net interest margin reflects annualized net interest income (including net Swap carry) divided by average interest-earning assets.

Rate/Volume Analysis

The following table presents the extent to which changes in interest rates (yield/cost) and changes in the volume (average balance) of interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities have affected our interest income and interest expense during the periods indicated. Information is provided in each category with respect to: (i) the changes attributable to changes in volume (changes in average balance multiplied by prior rate); (ii) the changes attributable to changes in rate (changes in rate multiplied by prior average balance); and (iii) the net change. The changes attributable to the combined impact of volume and rate have been allocated proportionately, based on absolute values, to the changes due to rate and volume.

(1) Reflects annualized interest income on Residential whole loans divided by average amortized cost basis of Residential whole loans. Excludes servicing costs.

(2) Reflects annualized interest expense divided by average balance of agreements with mark-to-market collateral provisions (repurchase agreements), agreements with non-mark-to-market collateral provisions, and securitized debt.

(3) Reflects the difference between Swap interest income received and Swap interest expense paid on our Swaps. While we have not elected hedge accounting treatment for Swaps and, accordingly, net Swap carry is not presented in interest expense in our consolidated statement of operations, we believe it is appropriate to allocate net Swap carry by asset class to reflect the economic impact of our Swaps on the net interest spread shown in the table above.

Interest Income

Interest income on our Securities, at fair value portfolio for the first quarter of 2026 increased by $5.7 million to $45.8 million, compared to $40.1 million for the fourth quarter of 2025. This increase primarily reflects a $460.8 million increase in the average balance of this portfolio to $3.3 billion for the first quarter of 2026 from the fourth quarter of 2025.

Interest income on our residential whole loans for the first quarter of 2026 decreased by $3.4 million, or 2.3%, to $143.1 million, compared to $146.4 million for the fourth quarter of 2025. This decrease primarily reflects a decrease in the yield to 6.42% for the first quarter of 2026 from 6.53% for the fourth quarter of 2025.

Interest Expense

Our interest expense for the first quarter of 2026 decreased by $2.2 million, or 1.6%, to $132.7 million, from $134.9 million for the fourth quarter of 2025. This decrease primarily reflects the impact of lower average rates on our securities repurchase agreements, residential whole loan financing agreements, and securitized debt, partially offset by the impact of higher average balances of our securities repurchase agreements.

Provision for Credit Losses on Residential Whole Loans Held at Carrying Value

For the first quarter of 2026, we recorded a reversal of provision for credit losses on residential whole loans held at carrying value of $0.2 million compared to a reversal of provision for credit losses of $0.3 million for the fourth quarter of 2025. The reversal of provision recorded in the current period primarily reflects minor changes to modeling assumptions and the run-off of loans held at carrying value. The reversal of provision for the prior period primarily reflects minor changes to modeling assumptions and the run-off of loans held at carrying value.

Provision for Credit Losses on Other Assets

We had no provision for credit losses on Other Assets for the first quarter of 2026 or the fourth quarter of 2025.

Other Income/(Loss), net

For the first quarter of 2026, Other Income/(Loss), net was $(15.9) million, compared to Other Income/(Loss), net of $33.2 million for the fourth quarter of 2025. The components of Other Income/(Loss), net for the first quarter of 2026 and fourth quarter of 2025 are summarized in the table below:

(In Thousands)	Three Months Ended
	March 31, 2026	December 31, 2025

Other, net (1)	1,896	(2,003)
Other Income/(Loss), net	$ (15,885)	$ 33,234

(1) Includes realized credit losses, net of recoveries, on liquidated residential whole loans or residential whole loans that were transferred to REO of $(4.4) million and $(3.0) million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

During the past two years we have seen an increase in realized credit losses on our residential whole loans at fair value, as we have worked to accelerate the resolution of certain non-performing loans. While we cannot predict the timing or amount of future credit losses, we expect that credit losses may remain heightened relative to historical levels in the short term as we continue to work to accelerate the resolution of certain non-performing loans. Credit losses are generally initially recognized in “Net gain/(loss) on residential whole loans measured at fair value through earnings” as unrealized losses and are later reclassified to “Other Income/(Loss), net” when the credit loss is realized.

Operating and Other Expense

Operating and other expenses are composed of compensation and benefits, other general and administrative, loan servicing and other related operating expenses and amortization of Lima One intangible assets.

Compensation and benefits expenses are composed of salaries, annual bonus, stock-based awards, long-term incentives, Lima One sales commissions, related payroll taxes, medical insurance, 401(k) matching and other benefits expenses. Compensation and benefits expense increased by $5.2 million to $22.2 million for the first quarter of 2026, compared to $16.9 million for the fourth quarter of 2025, primarily driven by the accelerated recognition of stock-based compensation in the first quarter of 2026 related to awards made to retirement eligible employees in January 2026.

Other general and administrative expenses are comprised of leasing and other office expenses, professional fees, insurance costs, board of directors fees, and miscellaneous expenses. Other general and administrative expenses of $12.2 million for the first quarter of 2026 increased by $2.1 million when compared to $10.1 million for the fourth quarter of 2025, primarily driven by the accelerated recognition of depreciation expense related to the remaining undepreciated tenant improvements at our current corporate headquarters.

Loan servicing and other related operating expenses are composed of non-recoverable advances, upfront costs on securitization and other fees related to our residential whole loan activities. These expenses increased compared to the prior quarter period by approximately $2.5 million, or 34.1%, primarily due to higher expenses recognized on upfront costs associated with two securitizations entered into in this quarter, compared to one in the prior quarter, as well as higher expenses recognized related to property preservation, taxes, insurance, and certain other non-recoverable carrying costs on our residential whole loan and REO portfolios.

(1) Reflects annualized net income divided by average total assets.

(2) Reflects annualized net income divided by average total stockholders' equity.

(3) Reflects dividends declared per share of common stock divided by earnings per share. The ratio has not been calculated for periods where earnings per share is negative as the calculations are not meaningful ("NMF").

(4) Reflects total average stockholders' equity divided by total average assets.

(5) Represents the sum of our borrowings under financing agreements and payable for unsettled purchases divided by stockholders' equity.

(6) Represents the sum of our borrowings under financing agreements (excluding securitized debt and other non-recourse debt) and payable for unsettled purchases divided by stockholders' equity.

General

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, we had net loss available to our common stock and participating securities of $(11.4) million, or $(0.11) per basic and diluted common share, compared to a net income available to our common stock and participating securities of $33.0 million, or $0.32 per basic and $0.31 per diluted common share, for the three months ended March 31, 2025. The net loss available to common stock and participating securities in the current period decreased from the prior period net income available to our common stock and participating securities primarily as a result of $40.4 million lower Other income/(loss), net, $2.9 million higher operating and other expenses, and a $2.2 million increase in preferred stock dividends paid as a result of the current floating rate payable on our Series C preferred stock compared to the initial fixed rate payable in the prior period, as well as additional shares outstanding as a result of issuances through the Preferred Stock ATM Program, partially offset by $1.7 million in higher net interest income.

Net Interest Income

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, our net interest spread and margin were 1.64% and 2.23%, respectively, compared to a net interest spread and margin of 1.84% and 2.63%, respectively, for the three months ended March 31, 2025. Our net interest income increased by $1.7 million, or 2.9%, to $59.2 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 compared to net interest income of $57.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2025. For the three months ended March 31, 2026, net interest income, which does not include the benefit of net Swap carry, includes higher net interest from our securities portfolio of $8.0 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025, primarily due to an increase in interest income from higher average balances of our securities portfolio, partially offset by an increase in interest expense from higher average balances of securities repurchase agreements. Net interest income for the three months ended March 31, 2026 also includes lower net interest income from our residential whole loan portfolio of $4.4 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025, primarily due to a decrease in interest income as a result of lower yield on our residential whole loan portfolio and an increase in interest expense as a result of higher average balances of our securitized debt, partially offset by a decrease in interest expense as a result of lower average balances of, and rates on, our residential whole loan financing agreements. In addition, the three months ended March 31, 2026 had $1.4 million lower interest income from other interest earnings assets and cash and cash equivalents when compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025.

Analysis of Net Interest Income

The following table sets forth certain information about the average balances of our assets and liabilities and their related yields and costs for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025. Average yields are derived by dividing annualized interest income by the average amortized cost basis of the related assets, and average costs are derived by dividing annualized interest expense by the daily average balance of the related liabilities, for the periods shown. The yields and costs may include premium amortization and discount accretion which are considered adjustments to interest income or expense.

(1) Yields presented throughout this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q are calculated using average amortized cost basis data for residential whole loans and securities, which excludes unrealized gains and losses. For GAAP reporting purposes, securities purchases and sales are reported on the trade date. Average amortized cost basis data used to determine yields is calculated based on the settlement date of the associated purchase or sale as interest income is not earned on purchased assets and continues to be earned on sold assets until settlement date.

(2) Includes average interest-earning cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash.

(3) Includes both securitized debt, at carrying value, and securitized debt, at fair value.

(4) Collateralized financing agreements include the following: mark-to-market asset based financing and non-mark-to-market asset based financing. For additional information, see Note 6, included under Item 1 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q.

(5) Net interest rate spread reflects the difference between the yield on average interest-earning assets and average cost of funds.

(6) Reflects the impact of positive or negative net Swap carry. Positive net Swap carry results when income from the receive leg of a Swap is greater than the expense on the pay leg. Negative net Swap carry results when income from the receive leg is less than the expense on the pay leg.

(7) Net interest margin reflects annualized net interest income (including net Swap carry) divided by average interest-earning assets.

Interest Income

Interest income on our Securities, at fair value portfolio for the three months ended March 31, 2026 increased by $21.1 million to $45.8 million from $24.7 million for the three months ended March 31, 2025. This increase primarily reflects an increase in the average amortized cost basis of the portfolio of $1.7 billion from purchases of Agency MBS, partially offset by a decrease in the net yield on our Securities, at fair value portfolio to 5.47% for the three months ended March 31, 2026, compared to 6.07% for the three months ended March 31, 2025.

Interest income on our residential whole loans for the three months ended March 31, 2026 decreased by $8.2 million, or 5.4%, to $143.1 million, compared to $151.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2025. This decrease primarily reflects a decrease in the net yield on our residential whole loans portfolio to 6.42% for the three months ended March 31, 2026, compared to 6.77% for the three months ended March 31, 2025.

Interest income on our cash and other interest earning assets for the three months ended March 31, 2026 decreased by $1.4 million to $3.1 million, compared to $4.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2025. This decrease primarily reflects a $140.1 million decrease in the average balance of, and a decrease in the yield earned to 2.91% for the three months ended March 31, 2026 from 3.33% for the three months ended March 31, 2025, on our cash and cash equivalents.

Interest Expense

Our interest expense for the three months ended March 31, 2026 increased by $9.8 million, or 7.9%, to $132.7 million, from $123.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2025. This increase primarily reflects an increase in the average balances of securities repurchase agreements and securitized debt, partially offset by lower average balances of, and rates, on our residential whole loan financing agreements and lower financing rates on our securities repurchase agreements.

Provision for Credit Losses on Residential Whole Loans Held at Carrying Value

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, we recorded a reversal of provision for credit losses on residential whole loans held at carrying value of $0.2 million compared to a provision for credit losses of $0.1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2025. The reversal of provision for the current period primarily reflects minor changes to modeling assumptions and the run-off of loans held at carrying value. The provision for the prior period primarily reflects minor changes to modeling assumptions, partially offset by the run-off of loans held at carrying value.

Provision for Credit Losses on Other Assets

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, we had no provision for credit losses on Other Assets.

Other Income/(Loss), net

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, Other Income/(Loss), net was $(15.9) million, compared to an Other Income/(Loss), net of $24.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2025. The components of Other Income/(Loss), net for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025 are summarized in the table below:

(In Thousands)	Three Months Ended March 31,

(1) Includes realized credit losses, net of recoveries, on liquidated residential whole loans or residential whole loans that were transferred to REO of $(4.4) million and $(3.7) million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025, respectively.

Operating and Other Expense

Operating and other expenses are composed of compensation and benefits, other general and administrative, loan servicing and other related operating expenses and amortization of Lima One intangible assets.

Compensation and benefits expenses are composed of salaries, annual bonus, stock-based awards, long-term incentives, Lima One sales commissions, related payroll taxes, medical insurance, 401(k) matching and other benefits expenses. Compensation and benefits expense decreased by $1.1 million to $22.2 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026, compared to $23.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2025, primarily driven by lower Lima One salaries and benefits expense, partially offset by higher Lima One sales commissions.

Other general and administrative expenses are comprised of leasing and other office expenses, professional fees, insurance costs, board of directors fees, and miscellaneous expenses. Other general and administrative expenses increased by $1.9 million to $12.2 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026, compared to $10.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2025, primarily as a result of approximately $2.4 million in higher expense recognized on the acceleration of depreciation expense related to the remaining undepreciated tenant improvements at our current corporate headquarters, partially offset by lower costs associated with IT infrastructure.

Loan servicing and other related operating expenses are composed of non-recoverable advances, upfront costs on securitization and other fees related to our residential whole loan activities. These expenses increased compared to the prior year period by approximately $2.7 million, or 36.76%, primarily due to higher expenses recognized on upfront costs associated with two securitizations entered into in this period, compared to one in the prior period, as well as higher expenses recognized related to property preservation, taxes, insurance, and certain other non-recoverable carrying costs on our residential whole loan and REO portfolio.

Reconciliation of GAAP and Non-GAAP Financial Measures

Reconciliation of GAAP Net Income to non-GAAP Distributable Earnings and non-GAAP Distributable Earnings Prior to Realized Credit Losses

“Distributable earnings” is a non-GAAP financial measure of our operating performance, within the meaning of Regulation G and Item 10(e) of Regulation S-K, as promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission. Distributable earnings is determined by adjusting GAAP net income/(loss) by removing certain unrealized gains and losses, primarily on residential mortgage investments, associated debt, and hedges that are, in each case, accounted for at fair value through earnings, certain realized gains and losses, as well as certain non-cash expenses and securitization-related transaction costs. Realized gains and losses arising from loans sold to third-parties by Lima One shortly after the origination of such loans are included in Distributable earnings. The transaction costs are primarily comprised of costs only incurred at the time of execution of our securitizations and include costs such as underwriting fees, legal fees, diligence fees, bank fees and other similar transaction related expenses. These costs are all incurred prior to or at the execution of our securitizations and do not recur. Beginning in the first quarter of 2026, losses/(gains) recognized in GAAP Net income/(loss) related to the extinguishment of debt were also included in the adjustments for Securitized debt held at fair value and Securitization-related transaction costs. Prior periods have been revised to reflect the current presentation. Recurring expenses, such as servicing fees, custodial fees, trustee fees and other similar ongoing fees are not excluded from Distributable earnings. Management believes that the adjustments made to GAAP earnings result in the removal of (i) income or expenses that are not reflective of the longer term performance of our investment portfolio, (ii) certain non-cash expenses, and (iii) expense items required to be recognized solely due to the election of the fair value option on certain related residential mortgage assets and associated liabilities. Distributable earnings is one of the factors that our Board of Directors considers when evaluating distributions to our shareholders. Accordingly, we believe that the adjustments to compute Distributable earnings specified below provide investors and analysts with additional information to evaluate our financial results.

Beginning in the first quarter of 2026, we have also reported a non-GAAP “Distributable earnings prior to realized credit losses” metric, whereby an adjustment is made to reported Distributable earnings to exclude realized credit losses, net of recoveries for all residential whole loans held at fair value. Prior periods have been revised to reflect the current presentation. Management believes Distributable earnings prior to realized credit losses provides users of our financial statements with meaningful information to consider in addition to Net income/(loss) and cash flows from operating activities in accordance with GAAP. Distributable earnings prior to realized credit losses is one of the factors that our Board of Directors considers when evaluating distributions to our shareholders. As the timing of a realized credit loss on a loan can differ significantly from when the initial fair value adjustment with respect to a loan is reflected in GAAP net income/(loss), management believes that adjusting Distributable earnings for the realized credit losses described above can help readers better understand the operating results of our business prior to the impact of realized credit losses, as well as evaluate and compare the performance of our Company and our peers.

Distributable earnings and Distributable earnings prior to realized credit losses should be used in conjunction with results presented in accordance with GAAP. Distributable earnings and Distributable earnings prior to realized credit losses do not represent and should not be considered as a substitute for net income or cash flows from operating activities, each as determined in accordance with GAAP, and our calculation of these measures may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies.

The following table provides a reconciliation of our GAAP net income/(loss) used in the calculation of basic EPS to our non-GAAP Distributable earnings and non-GAAP Distributable earnings prior to realized credit losses for the quarterly periods below:

Reconciliation of GAAP Book Value per Common Share to non-GAAP Economic Book Value per Common Share

“Economic book value” is a non-GAAP financial measure of our financial position. To calculate our Economic book value, our portfolios of Residential whole loans and securitized debt held at carrying value are adjusted to their fair value, rather than the carrying value that is required to be reported under the GAAP accounting model applied to these financial instruments. These adjustments are also reflected in the table below in our end of period stockholders’ equity. Management considers that Economic book value provides investors with a useful supplemental measure to evaluate our financial position as it reflects the impact of fair value changes for all of our investment activities, irrespective of the accounting model applied for GAAP reporting purposes. Economic book value does not represent and should not be considered as a substitute for Stockholders’ Equity, as determined in accordance with GAAP, and our calculation of this measure may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies.

The following table provides a reconciliation of our GAAP book value per common share to our non-GAAP Economic book value per common share as of the quarterly periods below:

(In Millions, Except Per Share Amounts)	Quarter Ended:

Recent Accounting Standards to Be Adopted in Future Periods

In November 2024, the FASB issued ASU 2024-03, Income Statement—Reporting Comprehensive Income—Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40): Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses (or ASU 2024-03). The amendments in ASU 2024-03 primarily require entities to disclose additional details regarding certain expenses on both an annual and interim basis. ASU 2024-03 is effective for public business entities for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026. Early adoption is permitted. We do not expect that the adoption of ASU 2024-03 will have a significant impact on our financial statement disclosures.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

General

Our principal sources of cash generally consist of borrowings under repurchase agreements and other collateralized financings, payments of principal and interest we receive on our investment portfolio, cash generated from our operating results and, to the extent such transactions are entered into, proceeds from capital market and structured financing transactions. Our most significant uses of cash are generally to pay principal and interest on our financing transactions, to purchase and originate residential mortgage assets, to make dividend payments on our capital stock, to fund our operations, to meet margin calls and to make other investments that we consider appropriate.

We seek to employ a diverse capital raising strategy under which we may issue capital stock and other types of securities. To the extent we raise additional funds through capital market transactions, we currently anticipate using the net proceeds from such transactions to acquire additional residential mortgage-related assets, consistent with our investment policy, and for working capital, which may include, among other things, the repayment of our financing transactions. There can be no assurance, however, that we will be able to access the capital markets at any particular time or on any particular terms. We have available for issuance an unlimited amount (subject to the terms and limitations of our charter) of common stock, preferred stock, depository shares representing preferred stock, warrants, debt securities, and rights and/or units pursuant to our universal shelf registration statement.

In January 2024, we completed the issuance of $115.0 million in aggregate principal amount of our 8.875% Senior Notes due 2029 (or the 8.875% Senior Notes) in an underwritten public offering. The 8.875% Senior Notes are our senior unsecured obligations and bear interest at a rate equal to 8.875% per year, payable in cash quarterly in arrears on February 15, May 15, August 15, and November 15 of each year, beginning on May 15, 2024, and are expected to mature on February 15, 2029, unless earlier redeemed. We may redeem the 8.875% Senior Notes in whole or in part at any time at our option on or after February 15, 2026, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the outstanding principal amount of the 8.875% Senior Notes to be redeemed plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but excluding, the redemption date. The 8.875% Senior Notes have an effective interest rate, including the impact of amortization to interest expense of debt issuance costs, of 9.83%.

In April 2024, we completed the issuance of $75.0 million in aggregate principal amount of our 9.00% Senior Notes due 2029 (or the 9.00% Senior Notes) in an underwritten public offering. The 9.00% Senior Notes are our senior unsecured obligations and bear interest at a rate equal to 9.00% per year, payable in cash quarterly in arrears on February 15, May 15, August 15, and November 15 of each year, beginning on August 15, 2024, and are expected to mature on August 15, 2029, unless earlier redeemed. We may redeem the 9.00% Senior Notes in whole or in part at any time at our option on or after August 15, 2026, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the outstanding principal amount of the 9.00% Senior Notes to be redeemed plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but excluding, the redemption date. The 9.00% Senior Notes have an effective interest rate, including the impact of amortization to interest expense of debt issuance costs, of 9.94%.

On August 15, 2025, we entered into a distribution agreement pursuant to the terms of which we may, from time to time, offer and sell shares of our Series B Preferred Stock and/or our Series C Preferred Stock having an aggregate gross sales price of up to $100.0 million, through various sales agents in transactions deemed to be “at-the-market” offerings under federal securities laws (or the “Preferred Stock ATM Program”). We sold an aggregate of approximately 160,454 shares of preferred stock through the Preferred Stock ATM Program during the three months ended March 31, 2026 for gross sales proceeds of approximately $3.6 million. As of March 31, 2026, approximately $86.9 million remained available under the current authorization for the Preferred Stock ATM Program.

On February 29, 2024, we entered into a distribution agreement pursuant to which we may offer and sell shares of our common stock having an aggregate gross sales price of up to $300 million, from time to time, through various sales agents in transactions deemed to be “at-the-market” offerings under federal securities laws (or the Common Stock ATM Program). On August 15, 2025, this agreement was terminated and a new distribution agreement with substantially the same terms was executed. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, we did not sell any shares of common stock through the Common Stock ATM Program. At March 31, 2026, $300 million remained available under the Common Stock ATM Program.

In February 2024, we announced our Board had authorized a $200 million stock repurchase program with respect to our common stock, which was in effect through the end of 2025. Approximately $190 million remained available for repurchase under the stock repurchase program upon its expiration. In February 2026, our Board authorized a new $200 million stock repurchase program with respect to our common stock, which will be in effect through December 31, 2028. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, we repurchased 500,660 shares of our common stock through the stock repurchase program at an average cost of $10.00 per share and a total cost of approximately $5.0 million, net of fees and commissions paid to the sales agent of approximately $5,000. At March 31, 2026, $195 million remained available under the current Board authorization for the purchase of common stock under our stock repurchase program.

Financing Agreements

Our borrowings under financing agreements include a combination of shorter term and longer arrangements. Certain of these arrangements are collateralized directly by our residential mortgage investments or otherwise have recourse to us, while securitized debt financing is non-recourse financing. Further, certain of our financing agreements contain terms that allow the lender to make margin calls on us based on changes in the value of the underlying collateral securing the borrowing. As of March 31, 2026, we had $4.6 billion of total unpaid principal balance related to asset-backed financing agreements with mark-to-market collateral provisions and $6.4 billion of total unpaid principal balance related to asset-backed financing agreements that do not include mark-to-market collateral provisions. Repurchase agreements and other forms of collateralized financing are uncommitted and renewable at the discretion of our lenders and, as such, our lenders could determine to reduce or terminate our access to future borrowings at virtually any time. The terms of the repurchase transaction borrowings under our master repurchase agreements, as such terms relate to repayment, margin requirements and the segregation of all securities that are the subject of repurchase transactions, generally conform to the terms contained in the standard master repurchase agreement published by the Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association (or SIFMA) or the global master repurchase agreement published by SIFMA and the International Capital Market Association. In addition, each lender typically requires that we include supplemental terms and conditions to the standard master repurchase agreement. Typical supplemental terms and conditions, which differ by lender, may include changes to the margin maintenance requirements, required haircuts (or the percentage amount by which the collateral value is contractually required to exceed the amount borrowed), purchase price maintenance requirements, requirements that all controversies related to the repurchase agreement be litigated in a particular jurisdiction and cross default and setoff provisions. Other non-repurchase agreement financing arrangements also contain provisions governing collateral maintenance. At March 31, 2026, we had unused financing capacity of approximately $2.8 billion across our financing arrangements for all collateral types.

Margin calls are typically determined by our counterparties based on their assessment of changes in the fair value of the underlying collateral and in accordance with the agreed upon haircuts specified in the transaction confirmation with the counterparty. We address margin call requests in accordance with the required terms specified in the applicable agreement and such requests are typically satisfied by posting additional cash or collateral on the same business day. We review margin calls made by counterparties and assess them for reasonableness by comparing the counterparty valuation against our valuation determination. When we believe that a margin call is unnecessary because our assessment of collateral value differs from the counterparty valuation, we typically hold discussions with the counterparty and attempt to resolve the matter. If this is not successful, we will look to resolve the dispute based on the remedies available to us under the terms of the repurchase agreement, which in some instances may include the engagement of a third-party to review collateral valuations. For certain other agreements that do not include such provisions, we could resolve the matter by substituting collateral as permitted in accordance with the agreement or otherwise request the counterparty to return the collateral in exchange for cash to unwind the financing. For additional information regarding our various types of financing arrangements, including those with non-mark-to-market terms and the haircuts for those agreements with mark-to-market collateral provisions, see Note 6 to the consolidated financial statements, included under Item 1 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q.

At March 31, 2026, we had a total of $1.3 billion of residential whole loans, $3.3 billion of securities and $4.5 million of restricted cash pledged to our financing counterparties excluding securitized debt. We expect that we will continue to pledge residential mortgage assets as part of certain of our ongoing financing arrangements. When the value of our residential mortgage assets pledged as collateral experiences rapid decreases, margin calls under our financing arrangements could materially increase, causing an adverse change in our liquidity position. Additionally, if one or more of our financing counterparties choose not to provide ongoing funding, our ability to finance our long-maturity assets would decline or otherwise become available on possibly less advantageous terms. Further, when liquidity tightens, our counterparties to our short term arrangements with mark-to-market collateral provisions may increase their required collateral cushion (or margin) requirements on new financings, including financings that we roll with the same counterparty, thereby reducing our ability to use leverage. Access to financing may also be negatively impacted by ongoing volatility in financial markets, thereby potentially adversely impacting our current or future lenders' ability or willingness to provide us with financing. In addition, there is no assurance that favorable market conditions will exist to permit us to consummate additional securitization transactions if we determine to seek that form of financing.

Our ability to meet future margin calls will be affected by our ability to use cash or obtain financing from unpledged collateral, the amount of which can vary based on the market value of such collateral, our cash position and margin requirements. Our cash position fluctuates based on the timing of our operating, investing and financing activities and is managed based on our anticipated cash needs. (See our Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows, included under Item 1 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q and "Interest Rate Risk" included under Item 3 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q.)

The table below presents certain information about our borrowings under asset-backed financing agreements and securitized debt:

Cash Flows and Liquidity for the Three Months Ended March 31, 2026

Our cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash increased by $24.1 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026, reflecting: $225.6 million used in our investing activities, $178.7 million provided by our financing activities and $71.1 million provided by our operating activities.

At March 31, 2026, our debt-to-equity multiple was 6.3 times compared to 6.0 times at December 31, 2025. Our recourse leverage multiple at March 31, 2026 was 2.7 times compared to 2.5 times at December 31, 2025. At March 31, 2026, we had borrowings under asset-backed financing agreements of $4.6 billion, of which $1.5 billion were secured by residential whole loans, $3.1 billion were secured by securities and $29.3 million were secured by REO. In addition, at March 31, 2026, we had securitized debt of $6.3 billion in connection with our loan securitization transactions. At December 31, 2025, we had borrowings under asset-backed financing agreements of $4.4 billion, of which $1.4 billion were secured by residential whole loans, $3.0 billion were secured by securities and $23.3 million were secured by REO. In addition, at December 31, 2025, we had securitized debt of $6.3 billion in connection with our loan securitization transactions.

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, $225.6 million was used in our investing activities. We utilized $0.7 billion for acquisitions and origination of residential whole loans, loan related investments and capitalized advances. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, we received $0.6 billion of principal payments on residential whole loans and loan related investments, $85.8 million of proceeds from the sale of residential whole loans, and $26.3 million of proceeds on sales of REO. In addition, during the three months ended March 31, 2026, we utilized $350.9 million for acquisitions of securities and received $128.1 million from principal payments on our securities and cash proceeds of $1.6 million from sales of securities and other assets.

In connection with our repurchase agreement financings and Swaps, we routinely receive margin calls from our counterparties and make margin calls (“reverse margin calls”) to our counterparties. Margin calls and reverse margin calls, which requirements vary over time, may occur daily between us and any of our counterparties when the value of collateral pledged changes from the amount contractually required. The value of securities pledged as collateral fluctuates reflecting changes in: (i) the face (or par) value of our assets; (ii) market interest rates and/or other market conditions; and (iii) the market value of our Swaps. Margin calls and reverse margin calls are satisfied when we pledge or receive additional collateral in the form of additional assets and/or cash.

The table below summarizes our margin activity with respect to our repurchase agreement financings and derivative hedging instruments for the quarterly periods presented:

For the Quarter Ended (1)	Collateral Pledged for Margin Activity			Cash and Securities Received for Reverse Margin	Net Assets Received/ (Pledged) for Margin Activity
	Fair Value of Securities Pledged	Cash Pledged	Aggregate Assets Pledged for Margin
(In Thousands)
March 31, 2026	$ 117,425	$ 12,256	$ 129,681	$ 80,006	$ (49,675)
December 31, 2025	118,636	8,661	127,297	122,020	(5,277)
September 30, 2025	34,529	18,697	53,226	62,671	9,445
June 30, 2025	63,384	10,109	73,493	81,349	7,856
March 31, 2025	15,676	18,471	34,147	37,890	3,743

(1) Excludes variation margin payments on our cleared Swaps which are treated as a legal settlement of the exposure under the Swap contract.

We are subject to various financial covenants under our financing agreements, which include minimum liquidity and net worth requirements, net worth decline limitations and maximum debt-to-equity ratios. We were in compliance with all financial covenants as of March 31, 2026.

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, we paid $38.9 million for cash dividends on our common stock and dividend equivalents and paid cash dividends of $10.4 million on our preferred stock. On March 5, 2026, we declared our first quarter 2026 dividend on our common stock of $0.36 per share; on April 30, 2026, we paid this dividend, which totaled approximately $37.7 million, including dividend equivalents of approximately $1.1 million.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk.

We seek to manage our risks related to interest rates, liquidity, prepayment speeds, market value and the credit quality of our assets while, at the same time, seeking to provide an opportunity to stockholders to realize attractive total returns through ownership of our capital stock. While we do not seek to avoid risk, we seek, consistent with our investment policies, to: assume risk that can be quantified based on management's judgment and experience and actively manage such risk; earn sufficient returns to justify the taking of such risks; and maintain capital levels consistent with the risks that we undertake.

Interest Rate Risk

We are exposed to interest rate risk on our residential mortgage assets, as well as on our liabilities. Changes in interest rates can affect our net interest income and the fair value of our assets and liabilities.

In general, when interest rates change, borrowing costs on our financing agreements will change more quickly than the yield on our assets. In a rising interest rate environment, the borrowing costs may increase faster than the interest income on our assets, thereby reducing our net income. In order to mitigate compression in net income based on such interest rate movements, we may use Swaps or other derivatives to lock in a portion of the net interest spread between assets and liabilities or otherwise hedge interest rate risk.

When interest rates change, the fair value of our residential mortgage assets could change at a different rate than the fair value of our liabilities. We measure the sensitivity of our portfolio to changes in interest rates by estimating the duration of our assets and liabilities. Duration is the approximate percentage change in fair value for a 100 basis point parallel shift in the yield curve. In general, our assets have higher duration than our liabilities, and in order to reduce this exposure, we have historically used Swaps and other derivatives to reduce the gap in duration between our assets and liabilities.

The fair value of our re-performing and non-performing residential whole loans is in part dependent on the value of the underlying real estate collateral, past and expected delinquency status of the borrower as well as the level of interest rates. For certain loans that were re-performing or non-performing when purchased and where the borrower has brought the loan current, but nonetheless may be less likely to prepay due to weak credit history and/or high LTV, we believe these loans exhibit positive duration. We estimate the duration of these residential whole loans using management's assumptions.

The fair value of our Business purpose and Non-QM loans is typically dependent on the value of the underlying real estate collateral, as well as the level of interest rates. Because these loans are primarily newly or recently originated performing loans, we believe these investments exhibit positive duration. Given the short duration of our Single-family and Multifamily transitional loans, we believe the fair value of these loans exhibits little sensitivity to changes in interest rates. We estimate the duration of these Business purpose and Non-QM loans using management's assumptions.

The fair value of our non-performing residential whole loans is typically dependent on the value of the underlying real estate collateral and the time required for collateral liquidation. Since neither the value of the collateral nor the liquidation timeline is generally sensitive to interest rates, we believe their fair value exhibits little sensitivity to interest rates. We estimate the duration of our non-performing residential whole loans using management's assumptions.

We estimate the duration of our Agency MBS using a third-party financial model, which takes into account key characteristics of securities, market data, and assumptions based on management's view and observed empirical data.

We use derivative financial instruments, including Swaps, as part of our overall interest rate risk management strategy. Such instruments are used to economically hedge against future interest rate increases on our financing transactions. While use of such derivatives does not extend the maturities of our borrowings under repurchase agreements, they do, in effect, lock in a fixed rate of interest over their term for a corresponding amount of our repurchase agreement financings that are hedged, or otherwise act as a hedge against changes in interest rates.

Shock Table

The information presented in the following “Shock Table” projects the potential impact of sudden parallel changes in interest rates on our portfolio value, including the impact of Swaps and securitized debt and other fixed rate debt, based on the assets in our investment portfolio as of March 31, 2026. All changes in value are measured as the percentage change from the projected portfolio value under the base interest rate scenario as of March 31, 2026.

Change in Interest Rates (Dollars in Thousands)	Change in Estimated Net Portfolio Value (1)(2)	Percentage Change in Net Portfolio Value	Percentage Change in Total Stockholders' Equity
+100 Basis Point Increase	$ (172,333)	(1.27)%	(9.69)%
+ 50 Basis Point Increase	$ (75,514)	(0.56)%	(4.24)%
Actual as of March 31, 2026	$ —	—%	—%
- 50 Basis Point Decrease	$ 54,210	0.40 %	3.05 %
-100 Basis Point Decrease	$ 87,115	0.64 %	4.90 %

(1) Assets in our portfolio include residential whole loans and REO, securities, other portfolio investments, goodwill, intangibles, receivables, and cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash.

(2) Change in estimated net portfolio value includes the effect of our Swaps, securitized debt, and other fixed-rate debt.

Certain assumptions have been made in connection with the calculation of the information set forth in the Shock Table and, as such, there can be no assurance that assumed events will occur or that other events will not occur that would affect the outcomes. The base interest rate scenario assumes interest rates as of March 31, 2026. The analysis presented utilizes assumptions and estimates based on management’s judgment and experience. Furthermore, while we generally expect to retain the majority of our assets and the associated interest rate risk to maturity, future purchases and sales of assets could materially change our interest rate risk profile. It should be specifically noted that the information set forth in the above table and all related disclosure constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act and Section 21E of the Exchange Act. Actual results could differ significantly from those estimated in the Shock Table above.

The Shock Table quantifies the potential changes in portfolio value, which includes the value of our derivative and other hedging transactions (if any) and securitized and other fixed rate debt (which are carried at fair value), should interest rates immediately change (i.e., are shocked). The Shock Table presents the estimated impact of interest rates instantaneously rising 50 and 100 basis points, and falling 50 and 100 basis points. As of March 31, 2026, the impact on portfolio value was approximated using estimated net effective duration (i.e., the price sensitivity to changes in interest rates), including the effect of securitized and other fixed rate debt, of 0.96 which is the weighted average of 3.21 for our Residential whole loans, 3.78 for our Securities investments, (2.61) for our derivative and other hedging transactions and securitized and other fixed rate debt, and zero for our Other assets and cash and cash equivalents. Estimated convexity (i.e., the approximate change in duration relative to the change in interest rates) of the portfolio was (0.63), which is the weighted average of (0.33) for our Residential whole loans, zero for our derivative and other hedging transactions and securitized and other fixed rate debt, (1.46) for our Securities and zero for our Other assets and cash and cash equivalents.

Credit Risk

We are exposed to credit risk through our credit sensitive residential mortgage investments, in particular residential whole loans and certain of our securities investments. We do not believe we are exposed to credit risk in our Agency MBS portfolio.

Our exposure to credit risk from our credit sensitive investments is discussed in more detail below:

Residential Whole Loans

We are exposed to credit risk from our investments in residential whole loans. Credit risk on our residential whole loans is mitigated through our process to underwrite the loan before it is acquired and/or originated and includes an assessment of the borrower’s financial condition and ability to repay the loan, nature of the collateral and relatively low LTV, including after-repair LTV for the majority of our Single-family and Multifamily transitional loans. Given the extent of home price appreciation that has occurred since the majority of our loans collateralized by single-family homes were acquired or originated, we estimate that current LTVs have decreased significantly, further mitigating the risk of material credit losses on this portfolio. As a result of higher capitalization rates and an increasing supply of multifamily units in certain markets, we estimate that current LTVs on certain of our Multifamily transitional loans may have increased since origination, increasing the risk of credit losses on this portfolio.

Our investment process for Legacy RPL/NPL loans is focused on quantifying and pricing credit risk. Legacy RPL/NPL loans are acquired at purchase prices that are generally discounted to the contractual loan balances based on a number of factors, including the impaired credit history of the borrower and the value of the collateral securing the loan. In addition, as we generally own the mortgage-servicing rights associated with these loans, our process is also focused on selecting a sub-servicer with the appropriate expertise to mitigate losses and maximize our overall return. This involves, among other things, performing due diligence on the sub-servicer prior to their engagement as well as ongoing oversight and surveillance. To the extent that delinquencies and defaults on these loans are higher than our expectation at the time the loans were purchased, the discounted purchase price at which the asset is acquired is intended to provide a level of protection against financial loss.

The following table presents certain information about our Residential whole loans as of March 31, 2026:

(1) Weighted average is calculated based on the interest bearing principal balance of each loan within the related category. For loans acquired with servicing rights released by the seller, interest rates included in the calculation do not reflect loan servicing fees. For loans acquired with servicing rights retained by the seller, interest rates included in the calculation are net of servicing fees.

(2) LTV represents the ratio of the total unpaid principal balance of the loan to the estimated value of the collateral securing the related loan as of the most recent date available, which may be the origination date. For Single-family and Multifamily transitional loans, the LTV presented is the ratio of the maximum unpaid principal balance of the loan, including unfunded commitments, to the estimated "after repaired" value of the collateral securing the related loan, where available. For certain Single-family transitional loans, totaling $228.4 million, an after repaired valuation was not obtained and the loan was underwritten based on an "as is" valuation. The LTV of these loans based on the current unpaid principal balance and the valuation obtained during underwriting, is 77%. For certain Multifamily transitional loans, totaling $187.0 million, an after repaired valuation was not obtained and the loan was underwritten based on an "as is" valuation. The LTV of these loans based on the current unpaid principal balance and the valuation obtained during underwriting, is 105%. Excluded from the calculation of weighted average LTV are certain low value loans secured by vacant lots for which the LTV ratio is not meaningful.

The following table presents the five largest geographic concentrations by state of certain of our residential whole loan portfolio and in total as of March 31, 2026:

CRT Securities

We are exposed to potential credit losses from our investments in CRT securities issued by or sponsored by Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. While CRT securities are issued by or sponsored by these government-sponsored enterprises, payment of principal on these securities is not guaranteed. As an investor in a CRT security, we may incur a loss if losses on the mortgage loans in the reference pool exceed the credit enhancement on the underlying CRT security owned by us or if an actual pool of loans experience losses. We assess the credit risk associated with our investments in CRT securities by assessing the current and expected future performance of the associated loan pool.

Credit Spread Risk

Credit spreads measure the additional yield demanded by investors in financial instruments based on the credit risk associated with an instrument relative to benchmark interest rates. They are impacted by the available supply and demand for instruments with various levels of credit risk. Widening credit spreads would result in higher yields being required by investors in financial instruments. Credit spread widening generally results in lower values of the financial instruments we hold at that time, but will generally result in a higher yield on future investments with similar credit risk. It is possible that the credit spreads on our assets and liabilities, including hedges, will not always move in tandem. Consequently, changes in credit spreads can result in volatility in our financial results and reported book value.

Liquidity Risk

The primary liquidity risk we face arises from financing long-maturity assets with shorter-term borrowings primarily in the form of repurchase agreement financings. We pledge residential mortgage assets and cash to secure our financing agreements. Our financing agreements with mark-to-market collateral provisions require us to pledge additional collateral in the event the market value of the assets pledged decreases, in order to maintain the lenders contractually specified collateral cushion, which is measured as the difference between the amount borrowed and the market value of the asset pledged as collateral. Should the value of our residential mortgage assets pledged as collateral suddenly decrease, margin calls under our repurchase agreements would likely increase, causing an adverse change in our liquidity position. Additionally, if one or more of our financing counterparties chose not to provide ongoing funding, our ability to finance our long-maturity assets would decline or be available on possibly less advantageous terms. Further, when liquidity tightens, our repurchase agreement counterparties may increase our collateral cushion (or margin) requirements on new financings, including repurchase agreement borrowings that we roll with the same counterparty, reducing our ability to use leverage.

As of March 31, 2026, we had access to various sources of liquidity, including $221.6 million of cash and cash equivalents. Our sources of liquidity do not include restricted cash. In addition, as of March 31, 2026, we had unencumbered residential whole loans and Agency MBS of $46.9 million and $174.8 million, respectively.

Prepayment Risk

Premiums arise when we acquire an MBS or loan at a price in excess of their unpaid principal balance. Conversely, discounts arise when we acquire an MBS or loan at a price below their unpaid principal balance. Premiums paid are amortized against interest income and accretible purchase discounts on these investments are accreted to interest income. Purchase premiums, which are primarily carried on our Single-family rental and Non-QM loans, are amortized against interest income over the life of the investment using the effective yield method, adjusted for actual prepayment activity. An increase in the prepayment rate, as measured by the CPR, will typically accelerate the amortization of purchase premiums, thereby reducing the interest income earned on these assets. Fees payable by borrowers on the early repayment of certain of our Business purpose and Non-QM loans serve to mitigate the impact on our income of higher prepayment rates.

In addition, increased prepayments are generally associated with decreasing market interest rates as borrowers are able to refinance their mortgages at lower rates. Therefore, increased prepayments on our investments may accelerate the redeployment of our capital to generally lower yielding investments. Similarly, decreased prepayments are generally associated with increasing market interest rates and may slow our ability to redeploy capital to generally higher-yielding investments.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

(a) Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Management, under the direction of its Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, is responsible for maintaining disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act) that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in SEC rules and forms and that such information is accumulated and communicated to management, including the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures.

In connection with the preparation of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, management reviewed and evaluated the Company's disclosure controls and procedures. The evaluation was performed under the direction of the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer to determine the effectiveness, as of March 31, 2026, of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures. Based on that review and evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer have concluded that the Company's current disclosure controls and procedures, as designed and implemented, were effective as of March 31, 2026. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a control system, no matter how well designed, implemented and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that it will detect or uncover failures within the Company to disclose material information otherwise required to be set forth in the Company's current periodic reports.

(b) Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There have been no changes in the Company's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the quarter ended March 31, 2026 that materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, its internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

There are no material pending legal proceedings to which we are a party or any of our assets are subject.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

For a discussion of the Company's risk factors, see Part 1, Item 1A. "Risk Factors" of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025 (the "2025 Form 10-K"). There are no material changes from the risk factors set forth in the 2025 Form 10-K. However, the risks and uncertainties that the Company faces are not limited to those set forth in the 2025 Form 10-K. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to the Company (or that it currently believes to be immaterial) may also adversely affect the Company's business and the trading price of our securities.

Item 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds

On February 29, 2024, the Company announced its Board had authorized a $200 million stock repurchase program with respect to the Company's common stock, which was in effect through the end of 2025. Approximately $190 million remained available for repurchase under the stock repurchase program upon its expiration. On February 12, 2026, the Company's Board authorized a new $200 million stock repurchase program with respect to the Company's common stock, which will be in effect through December 31, 2028.

The stock repurchase program does not require the purchase of any minimum number of shares. The timing and extent to which the Company repurchases its shares will depend upon, among other things, market conditions, share price, liquidity, regulatory requirements and other factors, and repurchases may be commenced or suspended at any time without prior notice. Acquisitions under the stock repurchase program may be made in the open market, through privately negotiated transactions or block trades or other means, in accordance with applicable securities laws (including, in the Company's discretion, through the use of one or more plans adopted under Rule 10b5-1 promulgated under the Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act")).

During the first quarter of 2026, the Company repurchased approximately $5.0 million of shares pursuant to the stock repurchase program. At March 31, 2026, approximately $195 million remained available under the current authorization for the purchase of the Company's common stock under the stock repurchase program.

During the first quarter of 2026, the Company also withheld shares (under the terms of grants under our Equity Compensation Plan (or Equity Plan)) to satisfy tax and payroll withholding obligations resulting from the vesting and settlement of restricted stock awards and/or restricted stock units (RSUs).
